LET HOOVER MANAGE.
QUESTIONS FOR EDISON.
A MERGER NEEDED.
JAPAN'S MIGHTY GROWTH.

Patriots in Congress advertise their generosity by suggesting ways for disposing of public monies.

Fortunately President Hoover, who has spent efficiently in charity more money than anybody that ever lived, is in the White House, to discourage the would-be squanderers.

Bills already introduced would cost Uncle Sam four billion five hundred million dollars.

With "unemployment" for its excuse the cost would be more than the total cost of government for a year.

Congress should let President Hoover plan appropriations actually necessary and meet emergencies as they occur, supporting him loyally, not as a partisan, but as a public national matter.

Next week Rev. A. K. Shields, head of New Jersey anti-Saloon League, will put six questions on prohibition to Thomas A. Edison. Mr. Edison says of Dwight W. Morrow: "Morrow knows nothing of the business and industrial world. He has been copied up in his office and away from the working man."

Senator Morrow might ask Edison three questions.

First: Has prohibition stopped the drinking of whisky and is whisky worse or better than it was?

Second: Did boys and girls, including high school children, drink whisky before prohibition came as they do now?

Third: Has crime increased or diminished under prohibition?

News that a so-called "billion dollar merger" of four New York banks has been called off, is more important than appears in the mere announcement.

The importance will develop later unless some kind of an absorbing and protecting merger is accomplished.

In spite of earthquakes, tidal waves, and restricted territory census returns show that Japan's population is 64,557,000, more than four million increase in five years.

Greater Tokyo with a population of 4,968,000 is the world's third city. Including colonies, Japan's population is 90,000,000.

A great, powerful people the Japanese. What would be their number had they been able to spread unrestricted on our Pacific coast?

General Atterbury complains justly of an interstate commerce decision forbidding the Pennsylvania railroad to hold a control in the Lehigh Valley and Wabash railroads.

At this time especially the government which finds it difficult to help business should at least not interfere with it.

Big industrial and other units are the order of the day and operate more economically.

The country should have one great railroad system operated by the ablest men as it has one post office system and one telephone system.

Since that is impossible government should not keep railroads chopped up into innumerable small, inefficient blocks.

General Atterbury might ask the supreme court to decide the issue.

Railroads are having trouble enough without being subjected to unnecessary interference.

KELLOGG GIVEN PEACE PRIZE AS KING LOOKS ON

Former Cabinet Member Honored At Oslo Ceremonies

1930 AWARD GOES TO DR. SOEDERBLOM

Premier Decries "Murders" To Settle Disputes Of Nations

(By Associated Press)
OSLO, NORWAY, Dec. 10.—Frank B. Kellogg, former American secretary of state, today received the Nobel peace prize for 1929 in the presence of King Haakon and a distinguished audience.

Dr. Nathan Soederblom, archbishop of Upsala, received the peace award for 1930.

Active in Cause of Peace
The award was voted to Mr. Kellogg for his activities in connection with the Kellogg-Briand peace pact. Dr. Soederblom has long been active in the cause of world peace and was the principal organizer of the Christian unity conference held in Stockholm five years ago.

Four other Americans have won this award—Theodore Roosevelt in 1906, Elihu Root, in 1912, Woodrow Wilson, in 1919, and Ambassador Charles G. Dawes, in 1925.

Another American, Sinclair Lewis, received this year's award in literature for his novel, "Babbalanza." This award will be made in Stockholm.

The achievements of Woodrow Wilson in the cause of peace were recalled by Premier Mowinckel in an address praising the work of Mr. Kellogg and Dr. Soederblom.

Wars Inevitable
"It is not enough," he said, "to declare war a crime. We must recognize that the murder of thousands of men to settle an international dispute is no more excusable than the murder of one man."

Kellogg expressed deep appreciation of the great honor accorded him and his country. He regretted, he said, to hear many voices raised in predictions of another war.

Western civilization, he said, could not survive another such conflict, but he declared he saw nothing to indicate another war in the offing.

$145 IS STOLEN AT COURTHOUSE

Money Taken From Cash Register As Clerk Leaves Office

LISBON, Dec. 10.—The cash drawer of the automobile and dog license tax office in the county courthouse, Lisbon, was robbed of $140 early Tuesday afternoon after Albert Ward, clerk of the office, was drawn from the office by a telephone call.

Shortly after noon, the office was visited by a young man who obtained change for a $5 bill from Ward. The man left and 15 minutes later called Ward by telephone, asking him to look for a checkbook which he said he had left in the basement.

Ward walked to the basement. He became suspicious when, on returning to the office, he saw the man who had earlier in the day obtained the change from him, and immediately inspected the cash drawer to find all money with exception of a $20 bill missing.

The call he received asking him to hunt the checkbook was traced and it was found to have been made from a pay station. Two men, seen driving from the court house in a Ford coupe just after the theft occurred are believed by county authorities to be involved.

Einstein To Arrive In U. S. Wednesday

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Professor Albert Einstein, noted German scientist, will arrive in New York tomorrow morning on the liner Belgenland. With Mrs. Einstein, he is enroute to California by way of the Panama canal.

The liner will dock here tomorrow morning and remain until Monday, Prof. Einstein planning to remain on board the ship. Officials of the company owning the Belgenland said that no account of the noise at the docks they expected the scientist to seek quiet in a hotel.

Envelope Machines Installed In Plant

The Church-Budget Envelope Co. has just installed commercial envelope machines, capacity of which is more than a quarter of a million envelopes daily.

All sizes will be made, including open window envelopes. One of these machines will be in production on envelopes to be used for ladies stationery, which will be sold through retail stores throughout the country.

Heads Eastward

WICHITA, KAN., Dec. 10.—Miss Ruth Nichols, Rye, N. Y., society aviatrix, took off here at 7:11 a. m. E. S. T. on the second and final lap of her transcontinental record flight attempt.

The aviatrix, attempting to better the Los Angeles-New York mark of Mrs. F. M. Keith-Miller, left in the face of cloudy conditions over the middle west. Weather reports were said to be favorable further east however.

She carried 390 gallons of gasoline, which she said would be sufficient to carry her to Roosevelt field, New York, without refueling. She hoped to arrive at her destination this afternoon.

2 NEWSPAPERS ARE PURCHASED BY BRUSH-MOORE

Eastern Ohio Group Will Include Mansfield And Lorain

(By Brush-Moore Leased Wire)
CANTON, Dec. 10.—Purchase by Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc., of the Mansfield News and the Lorain Times-Herald, both long established leading newspapers in their respective Ohio fields, was announced today.

Both papers were owned by R. C. Hollies. Mr. Hollies bought the Lorain Times-Herald about 10 years ago and later the Mansfield News and transferred his residence to the latter city.

The addition of these two newspapers makes a total of nine Ohio daily publications now owned and operated by Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc. Six properties have been purchased by the group during 1930, including, besides the Mansfield and Lorain properties, The Portsmouth Times and The Portsmouth Sun which were promptly merged; a half interest in The Ironton Tribune, and The Canton Daily News, owned by former Governor James M. Cox and which was merged with the Canton Repository.

In addition to the Portsmouth, Ironton, Mansfield, Lorain and Canton properties the Brush-Moore group includes The Marion Star, purchased from the late President Harding, The Steubenville Herald-Star, The East Liverpool Review and The Salem News.

Negotiations involving the Lorain and Mansfield transactions were conducted by Louis H. Brush, president; Roy D. Moore, vice president; and general manager, and William H. Voder, secretary-treasurer, on behalf of Brush-Moore Newspapers and by Mr. Hollies and his son, Charles H. Hollies. The latter is publisher of The Bucyrus Telegraph-Forum which is not involved in the transaction and which he will continue to publish.

JUDGE LINDSEY BLAMES BISHOP

Disturbance In Church To Result In Court Trial In New York; Lindsey Hurls Charges

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Ben B. Lindsey plans to heap upon Bishop William T. Manning the blame for last Sunday's disturbance when he goes to trial Friday.

Lindsey disclosed today that in defending himself on a disorderly conduct charge he would contend the bishop incited a riot in the cathedral of St. John the Divine.

"Bishop Manning," he said, "willfully and without cause, provoked a breach of the peace by slandering me in the pulpit."

"Bishop Manning's false statement about me and what I stand for not only incited me to do what I did but it inflamed the mob spirit of his congregation, so that I was very fortunate to escape the honor of being burned at the stake or lynched at the cathedral."

Carpenter Winner Of Bridge Honors

James Carpenter of Cleveland, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Carpenter of Salem, was a member of the Cleveland team which won the contract bridge championship of the country last week.

The team was composed of Carpenter, L. Y. Culbertson, Robert Barrett and John Lowe. Each was presented a cup.

PLOT TO SLAY IBANEZ PARTY IS FRUSTRATED

Conspirators Plant Bomb In Front Of Presidential Train

FOUR ARRESTED BY GOVERNMENT

Three Generals, Medical Student Said To Be Implicated

(By Associated Press)
SANTIAGO DE CHILE, Dec. 10.—An attempt against the lives of President Carlos Ibanez and members of his party was thwarted last night by government agents who discovered and removed a bomb set to blow up the presidential train as it neared the capital.

Detectives On Guard
Detectives who had been watching development of an "anarchist" plot against the president and his government for days, saw the conspirators place ten kilos of dynamite under the railroad bridge across the Rio Maipo, and then dismantled the charge before the president's train passed over it.

Four persons have been arrested and although their names were not learned it is said that one is a general in the Chilean army and one a medical student. Two others said to be generals are implicated in the affair.

Could Kill 100 persons
Police claimed that there was enough explosive in the charge to kill 100 persons.

The attempt against the president's life was not disclosed until just after the special train had arrived at the central station from Osorno, where the president inaugurated a livestock show.

PLANS CHARGES AGAINST JONES

District Attorney To Act In Newton Falls Bank Shortage

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Dec. 10.—The United States district attorney's office today was ready to file charges against Reese B. Jones, former president of the First State bank of Newton Falls, if the state does not take action. Jones is short $28,000 and possibly more, in his accounts, according to bank examiners.

Will Press Charges
Assistant District Attorney William J. McDermott said whether Jones makes restitution "will make no difference in our investigation after we learn definitely whether Prosecutor George H. Birrell is going to press charges under the state laws. This we have given him the opportunity to do, as it is a state bank."

"Since this is a federal reserve member bank as well, if the evidence warrants, we will lose no time in going ahead with the prosecution of Jones if Birrell steps aside in the case."

Federal Reserve Probe
A separate investigation is being made for federal authorities by William H. Fletcher, assistant agent for the federal reserve bank of Cleveland.

Jones is held in the Trumbull county jail at Warren without charges.

Rotary Hears Talk By Hospital Head

Miss Esther Wilson, superintendent of Salem City hospital, addressed members of the Rotary club at their weekly luncheon meeting Tuesday.

Miss Wilson discussed the benefits derived from hospitals in all communities and gave an interesting and complete history of the Salem institution.

The important part of a hospital and its nurses play in the development of a city was stressed by the speaker.

She was presented by C. S. Carr who was in charge of the meeting.

Salem Student In College Dramas

Charles Wilhelm of Salem will have a leading role in a group of one-act plays presented at Mount Union college Thursday evening.

The plays will be staged under direction of Prof. Karl Ketterling. Wilhelm is a graduate of Salem High school and is prominent in dramatic activities at Mount Union.

Meeting Postponed
On account of the Farmers Institute at Winona a meeting of Willow Grove grange which was to have been held Friday evening has been postponed for one week. At that time there will be a Christmas box and special program.

Some of the feminine leaders, assembled from various parts of the country to participate in the conference on women in industry which is now in session at Philadelphia. They are, left to right: Miss Frances Monroe of Philadelphia; Miss Anna Jackson Sloan of Virginia; Miss Muna Lee of Porto Rico, director of the National activities of the Women's party of Pennsylvania; Mrs. Carl E. Grammer of Philadelphia.

18 IN HOSPITAL AFTER INHALING AMMONIA FUMES

Near Panic Started As Refrigeration System Breaks

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Dec. 10.—Eighteen persons remained in Charity hospital today recovering from ammonia fumes breathed when a refrigerator system connection broke in the grocery and restaurant of Chandler Rudd & Co., near the public square yesterday.

64 Given Treatment
The 18, all but one of them women employees, were among the 64 given hospital treatment when ammonia fumes rushed through the store and started a near panic. None of them, however, would suffer permanent harm and were more ill from shock and fright than from the fumes physicians said.

The ammonia rushed through the store and principally through a passage leading to the restaurant on the balcony where 125 women and children were lunching.

Those overcome did not drop until they reached the street and drew fresh air into their lungs. Women fell on the pavement on East Third street off Euclid avenue and a general alarm went out or ambulances and physicians. Before the ambulances arrived, trucks and automobiles were used to rush the victims to hospitals.

There were about 500 employees and customers in the store, but little of the gas escaped into the main part of the building.

Store officials said a bushing on a connection between a 100-pound tank of liquid ammonia and a refrigerator machine gave way.

Fine Imposed After Arrest By Sheriff

LISBON, Dec. 10.—Duffy Wilson, residing on the Lisbon-Wellsville road, was fined $200 and costs on a charge of possession of intoxicating liquors by Judge Lodge Riddle today.

Wilson was arrested by Sheriff W. J. Barlow, Tuesday.

STATEMENT OF ACCUSED WOMAN READ IN COURT

Prosecution Rests Case In Hearing Of Mary Tinney

SHERIFF, CORONER CALLED TO STAND

Nurse Tells Of Slain Man's Refusal To Tell Name Of Assailant

BULLETIN
LISBON, Dec. 10.—The defense was expected to rest its case late this afternoon.

Miss Lottie Slaby, 180 West State street, Salem, and Mrs. W. J. Barlow, matron at the county jail here, testified as witnesses for the defense this morning.

Witnesses for the defense testified today in common pleas court, Lisbon, in the second degree murder trial of Mary Tinney, 22-year-old Salem woman, charged with the death of Frank Murphy, 32, also of Salem, following a party held here last July.

Miss Tinney is expected to take the witness stand in her own defense this afternoon.

An Indiana doctor who presided at the autopsy held on Murphy's body after it was sent to his home, has been notified by the state to appear. He may arrive this afternoon, permission having been granted to Prosecutor John Baucknecht to call him on the stand on his arrival in Lisbon.

The state closed its case against the woman after calling 24 witnesses this morning and defense testimony was taken up when court convened this afternoon.

Statement Is Read
A statement signed by Miss Tinney, in which she admitted having shot Murphy after he is said to have threatened her, was admitted as evidence to climax the state's case Tuesday afternoon. The statement was written by Sheriff William J. Barlow and witnessed by Coroner Ernest R. Sturgis after the woman was questioned in connection of the shooting on Sunday, July 13, the day after Murphy died in Central Clinic hospital from a bullet wound in his neck.

The statement follows: "I, Mary Tinney, make this statement of my own free will without any promise or any undue influence from the sheriff or Mr. Sturgis."

"Murphy and I were in the kitchen. Pete was up stairs. Murphy insulted me and I said: 'you see that gun there on the table? If you don't take that back I'll shoot you.' I took the gun in my hand, pointing it at Murphy. Just then Pete came down stairs and grabbed my hand, then I pulled the trigger. The gun went off and the bullet struck Murphy in the neck."

The shooting occurred at the

Stalin's Trick

HOLLYWOOD, CAL., Dec. 10.—Been an awful lot in the papers lately about Russia. Funny thing about human nature, when we ain't feeling so good ourselves, we always want to read about somebody that is worse off than we are.

That was a terrible trick that fellow Stalin played on those eight convicted men. They had confessed, thinking they would be hung and put out of their misery. Now he tells 'em they got to live, and in Russia.

Not changing the subject, but somebody was just telling us that congress was in session. We certainly hope that rumor was unfounded.

TEXTBOOK FOR IBITZERS

There is a choice group of gentlemen in the United States who know exactly what is wrong with the country and how to correct it. You may have been seated next to one of them at a banquet some time or other.

These economic "kibitzers" were presented with a book of instructions recently. In it was a list of all the things that are wrong with all countries. They can take their choice. The "book" is the report of the international chamber of commerce showing twelve reasons for the world-wide economic depression. Experts of 28 nations cooperated to make it authentic.

The causes are:
Overproduction.
Decline in commodity prices.
World agricultural crisis.
Industrial unemployment.
Political unrest.

Partial closing of several world markets, notably India and China.
Varied bases of monetary circulation.

Disequilibrium between short and long term credits.

Fall of silver prices.

"Dumping" of goods by Soviet Russia.

Unprecedented taxation to meet international indebtedness.

Excessive state participation in private enterprise.

Thus equipped with authoritative material, "what's wrong with the world?" becomes a more zestful game, particularly since it is understood that the compilers of the list had half a dozen more "causes" that not included. So massive is the account of that which is wrong that the bewildered layman is moved to wish that someone would hurry and make a list of that which is right, else it ceases to be the "good old world" mentioned with such reverence by our fathers.

A DIFFERENCE

Five Russians sentenced to death for complicity in a treason plot is one thing—both for Russians and others throughout the world who may be interested.

Five Russians, convicted of complicity in a treason plot, whose death sentences have been commuted to 10 years imprisonment and confiscation of their property, is another thing—particularly when the rest of the world is given to understand that the proletarian state does not desire revenge on beaten and disarmed enemies.

When the five Russians in each case happen to be the same ones, when death sentences, imposed after a trial broadcast for the benefit of all Russians who needed to be apprised of the fate of public enemies, are commuted to 10 years of imprisonment—then the whole affair becomes something else. Propaganda.

The opinion of readers in the United States, formed by brief and sometimes conflicting dispatches from Russia, is generally inclined to the view that the trial of the engineers charged with plotting to overthrow the Soviet regime has been neither more nor less than a ghastly play to stir enthusiasm for the government. Many days ago when the trial started, sensible people agreed that the test of its sincerity would be the ultimate fate of the eight prisoners held. Now, it appears that five of them are to remain in jail for 10 years, and three for shorter sentences. The propaganda has been concluded with a noble gesture—an extension of clemency because the Soviet does not take revenge on helpless enemies. Thus it is that the illiterate masses of Russia are being taught to honor their new government—by vicious misrepresentation calculated to feed the flame of their hatred for the enemies they have been encouraged to believe are awaiting an opportunity to destroy them.

What Others Say

THE LAWLESS ALIEN

Congress will serve the country well if it acts upon the President's recommendation that the deportation laws be strengthened to facilitate the enforced departure of criminal aliens. American citizens of vicious habit are a menace sufficiently serious without having the problem of law enforcement complicated by the activities of debased humanity from far countries. That these aliens play a prominent part in the war upon society in this country goes without the saying. The President's recommendation should be adopted with as little loss of time as possible.

Mr. Hoover goes further. He calls attention to the thousands of persons who have entered the country in violation of the immigration laws. As he says, the method of their entrance indicates their generally objectionable character, although that statement might be qualified by the admission that some who have violated the law in getting into the country have proved law-abiding thereafter. But such exceptions do not justify laxity in dealing with this condition. So again the President is right when he urges that the laws be strengthened.

America welcomes those of other lands who in coming here comply with the provisions of the law and observe it thereafter. As the President indicates, it is only doing justice to them that the lawless be kept out, or if they succeed in getting in that they be put out.—Boston Transcript.

NEW YORK
Day by Day
by O.O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—An indoor caprice these wintry days is sitting at a window to watch steel workers and riveters on the top floor of a 43-story building near by. Through binoculars one may follow the dizzy exploits of men who have apparently conquered fear.

They are as sure-footed on a narrow beam spun high in the clouds as a cat on the prairie. In instances they jog along like Mexican ponies over a mountain trail. Sometimes they teeter and sway in the swift wind so perilously that a watcher has to turn away.

At times they even grow prankish. This noon a number of them were lunching, their legs dangling in the air. A joker above sloshed them with a bucket of water. The slightest slip would have meant a rush to oblivion but everybody laughed heartily.

One of their casual stunts is to pass each other on a slim beam. They grip shoulders and with a turn like the quick spin of a waltz, go on their way. A few of them have mascots, a dog or cat that follow about with the same sureness.

A disaster is costly to contractors. If a steel worker falls it is the invariable custom for the rest to knock off work for the day. The experts are mostly cigarette smokers but rarely drink. Booze and steel-jacking do not mix. Butter-milk is the favorite tipple.

The majority of the intrepid artisans are married, devoted family men with highly developed sentimentalities. They know that each day offers the hazard of being their last. Frequently their wives by appointment wave to them from the sidewalks.

As a rule they are farm bred boys who acquired the sturdiness hard work and life in the open give. Their big task is one of concentration. They train themselves to reject any suggestion of fear or thought of a false step.

Hollywood spies report a transported New Yorker as the most rabid of the sun bathers. He sits at his desk with the sun streaming in on him bare to the waist. When ladies call he slips into a bath robe.

A gentleman whose calling card announced, "Noble N. Noble just called. He wanted to inform me his middle name also was Noble and to write a line about it. It seemed worth while. I have a suspicion there is a catch. But here it is."

Those quaint beer cottages with Bavarian fronts once confined to the Yorkville German section, are now blooming in the Furiosus Forties. They feature such dishes as pig knuckles with sauer kraut, schmeer-kase and the like and flavors of brew that taste like real article. The hat check girl in one insisted on a patron taking the check she offered last night. "You won't know your hat from a high bicycle when you leave," she warned.

That asylum of idiocy known as The Village Nut Club is another spot for stay-out on the loose. It conforms to its name and includes the unwashed diner with the sad eyes of a squint-owl who occupies a table and eats salt herring he pulls from various pockets while scribbling his poetry. He is a prop.

In old Greenwich Village days there were Tiny Tim and his "soul" candy; Sonia the cigaret girl; Harry Kemp the tramp poet; Bobby Edwards thrumming masochistic blues on his cigar box ukelele; Clivette, the man in black; Peter the smocked silhouette cutter and Takhiro, the hatless Japanese futurist. And whether have they scattered? Bruno's book shop and Grace Godwin's candle-sputtering garret are also no more. Only the Black Cat and Madam Bertolotti's remain. Like beloved Broadway the song laments. The Village is a take, it's a phoney.

The narrow street known as Barrow seems the only village thoroughfare untouched by the gush of progress. It remains like a transplanted stretch of the Left Bank—an old cameo on a late frock by Patou.

For Thursday, December 11

A very lively and eventful day is the presage based on the interesting lunar and mutual configurations of the ruling planets. With the mysterious and intriguing planet Neptune in active operation, assisted by the convertible Mercury also—strong lunar aspect, the novel, strange and unique may be anticipated. New projects and contracts are in order, but there are signs of small anxieties, sudden changes and financial perils to be considered. Also some duplicity.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by an intriguing year in which the erratic, peculiar or unusual may occur, with new undertakings of a singular or subtle nature, and possibly in connection with combines or secret societies. There may be small anxieties and tests and the finances may give concern. A child born on this day should be versatile and shrewd and may incline to secret and subtle ways of attaining its ends. It may be literary and mystical.

Strengthening Muscles

It is only with good health and vigor that we can depend upon accuracy and speed of the body muscles. How much better it is to learn how to keep fit than to patch up the body after some disease has attacked us.

Do you realize how dependent you are on the power to move? Our body muscles are under orders every single waking moment. We just have to see to it that they are kept in good condition for the wear and tear of living.

Upon the case and perfection of movement is founded your welfare as a human being. You do your daily tasks, you go about your affairs, you make yourself useful, through the muscular movements you have adopted.

Every form of motion depends upon the ability of joints and muscles to act in harmony. The bones of the body are related to each other through the joints. One of the chief uses of the bones is to furnish a secure place of attachment for the muscles which operate the movements of the body. The bones work freely because the joints give them freedom to play.

The mechanism of the body is truly wonderful. In the normal person the bones are of the right size and shape. All the machinery is ready for motion, but continued motion depends upon how we use and care for the machinery.

There is no voluntary motion without muscular control exercised by nerves and brain. The play of the muscles depends a lot upon the nervous system. One part of the body depends on all the other parts. The whole must be kept in good repair.

Everything depends upon proper nutrition, the right exercise, rest and sleep, fresh air and sunlight. Your diet must be such that tissues, muscles, bones and nerves are well nourished. Your exercise must be adequate and not too vigorous. If you don't observe the rules of right living you have to pay the penalty in less efficient muscular action. Too many persons neglect all or some of these important rules of living, until all of a sudden they are played out. A careless person may go a good many years, and, according to his "constitution" or his resistance to disease, he may enjoy apparently good health until he breaks down long before he should.

How many persons there are who have a chronic tired feeling and exhaustion, or some form of rheumatism or other disease fastened upon them. They are handicapped in their movements.

Of course, there are many who are overtaken by misfortune, and our hearts go out to such. But for those who are able to control their destinies, it is a solemn duty to keep fit, and to live as useful lives as possible. To them I am talking today.

Everyone should have daily exercise. Even miniature golf has its good points. Walking is one of the most splendid of exercises.

A lot has been said lately about exercise, and more exercise. But words mean nothing. Action does. Don't be one of those persons, like the proverbial ostrich with its head in the sand, to say, "It doesn't matter." It does matter whether you keep yourself fit. To live a useful life, that is absolutely essential.

Mother of Four Babies

"Although I am only 22 years old, I have four babies to care for. Before my first baby was born my mother urged me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I was so terribly weak. I had to lie down four or five times a day. After three bottles I could feel a great improvement. I still take the Vegetable Compound whenever I need it for it gives me strength to be a good mother to my family."—Mrs. Vern L. Deynings, 510 Johnson Street, Saginaw, Michigan.

Financial Returns From 1930 Grid Contests Reach High Mark

Business Of Football Is Unharmed During Year Of Depression In U.S. A.

(By United Press)
COLUMBUS, Dec. 10.—The "business" of football which represents an investment of millions of dollars, suffered little from the economic depression of 1930, a national survey disclosed today.

Football again was a $100,000,000 industry and gate receipts for the major colleges of the country were nearly as high as in 1929, the banner year for pigskin activities. A few schools reported slight decrease in cash customers, but nearly as many recorded increases. These fluctuations more often are due to the quality of the team than to business depression.

Notre Dame, accepted as the national football champion because of its impressive record, played before 539,000 spectators this season. These spectators paid somewhat more than $1,000,000 to see Knute Rockne's team go through its successful season.

In addition to Notre Dame, there probably were at least 10 other schools whose drawing power exceeded $500,000. The largest single crowd of the season saw Army play Notre Dame at Chicago. It was estimated 105,000 persons saw the game, just 10,000 short of the all-time attendance mark.

The tendency of the fans was to remain away from the unimportant games but to give whole-hearted patronage to the games involving strong teams. This has been the case in normal times.

Northwestern Receipts High
Kenneth L. Wilson, athletic director at Northwestern university, reported spectators and receipts greater than ever before. This was not phenomenal, however, as Northwestern was co-champion of the Big Ten with Michigan.

Attendance at the University of Illinois fell 10 per cent but this was not more startling as Coach Zuppke had his poorest team in years. George Huff, head of the athletic department at Illinois, did not blame business conditions and indicated a normal team would have attracted normal gate receipts.

Illinois will go ahead with its plan to spend $400,000 for athletic facilities, despite the decreased financial returns.

by Robert Woodward director of sports relations at Purdue university where decreased patronage had made it necessary to curtail the program of minor sports. Woodward declared that football was not to blame because the season's receipts of $172,000 broke all records. He was of the opinion that football interest had increased instead of decreased.

Hard Times Blamed
Ohio State university suffered greatly from lack of spectators. According to Athletic Director L. W. St. John, the attendance figures were 100,000 smaller than last year. He said that the enthusiasm of Ohio State fans had not faltered but blamed "hard times" for the poor show.

Coach A. A. Stagg, of the University of Chicago, was of the opinion that the Maroons' following had not dwindled this season.

The Western Conference situation was summarized by Major John L. Griffith, commissioner, who said:

"There will be some decrease in receipts this year due to Iowa's poor schedule, the playing of the Michigan-Harvard game at Cambridge instead of Ann Arbor and the Chicago and Illinois teams being below average. However the interest is just as marked as formerly. Football in the conference is conducted as part of the educational process and consequently we have no excesses to correct."

Season Limited

"Our season is limited, we play no post-season games and tickets are sold to students for 50 cents a game."

Major Phillip B. Fleming, of West Point, declared that Army's attendance was below 1929 but ahead of 1928. He said that enthusiasm among the Cadets was higher this year than ever.

Harvard felt a sharp decrease in gate receipts due mostly to rainy weather. Pennsylvania's athletic heads were "very gratified" over the 1930 attendance which equaled that of last year. At Cornell there was practically no variation one way or the other.

GRIDIRON MEMORIES

Some vivid memories and personal opinions on the football season after witnessing ten games played in three sections of the country—east, middle-west and far west.

Greatest all-around player: Frank Cardie, Notre Dame.

Best line plunger: Rob Russell, Northwestern, who ripped Notre Dame's line to pieces.

Best running back: Markey Schwartz, Notre Dame, who was never stopped by any team.

Best blocking back: Marty Brill, Notre Dame.

Hardest hitting back: Jack Manders, Minnesota giant.

Greatest all-around lineman: Bert Metzger, 153-pound Notre Dame guard who was never outplayed and whose remarkable blocking made many a long run possible.

Best passers: Harry Newman, Michigan and Pug Reutter, Northwestern.

Best pass catchers: Frank Baker, Northwestern, and Tom Conley, Notre Dame.

Most spectacular lineman: Rob Woodward, Northwestern guard, who played his position like an end.

Biggest mystery of the season: Why Northwestern, Carnegie Tech and Southern California all fumbled at crucial moments against Notre Dame.

Most thrilling play: Marshall Duffield, Southern California quarterback, retrieved a bad pass from center just before the ball went out of bounds and kicking over Notre Dame's goal-line while standing almost in the arms of two Notre Dame players.

Longest and prettiest punt: Harold Rother, Stanford fullback, booting one 60 yards from scrimmage against Dartmouth.

Best single exhibition of punting: Carideo kicking out of bounds three times in a row inside Northwestern's 3-yard line.

Most surprising play: Dutch Eyth, Carnegie Tech halfback, getting through the Notre Dame line and running 70 yards for a touchdown without a Notre Dame man putting a finger on him.

Most under-rated player, Alvin Culver, Big Notre Dame tackle, who was always bobbing up with a great play at a critical moment like recovering a fumble on his own 1-yard line against Northwestern and another in the Southern California game which led to Notre Dame's first touchdown.

Gamewit exhibition: Johnny Kitzmiller, Oregon halfback, playing on his nerve against St. Mary's, and being almost unable to get up after he was knocked down in the latter part of the game.

Hardest single tackle: Schwartz, Notre Dame, hitting Russell, Northwestern, head on and laying Russell out cold.

Hardest luck play: Fletcher, Oregon end, catching a pass for what would have been the winning touchdown against St. Mary's, then dropping the ball over the goal line.

Most serious football fans: the Los Angeles variety.

Most picturesque section: Southern California.

Hardest fought game: Notre Dame and Northwestern battling 53 minutes without a score before the Irish could break the deadlock.

Lowell Allen, Bob Cope On Varsity Cage Squad

ALLIANCE, Dec. 10.—Mount Union cagers get their first real test of the 1930-31 season, battling the strong Akron University court team in a doubleheader at Akron Friday night.

The Alliance cagers opened their campaign with an easy victory over the Hoover Sweeper team of North Canton last week but Coach Wright was not able to ascertain full strength of his team due to the lack of opposition, the Akron games being expected to give the men a real line on season's prospects.

Allen, Cope Look Good

Lowell E. "Little Rib" Allen, former Salem High star athlete, and holder of the world's interscholastic pole vault record, and Robert "Bob" Cope, varsity center at Salem for two seasons, are expected to prove great assets to the Mountmen during the season. Both got their chances in the game against the Sweepers and made good showings.

Cage veterans who have as yet not been given strenuous workouts, Wright permitting them to enjoy a short lay-off from training because of their participation in football, will be back in harness this week and will probably see action in the Akron games. The advent of new material into the spotlight insured Wright of excellent material for both varsity and reserves and there is every indication that the college will be represented by another great cage team.

Salem Lads Head Prospects
Allen and Cope, together with Lowell Lamb and Dawson Curtis of Alliance, were the leading sophomores "finds" uncovered by Wright this season. The varsity squad as it now stands following latest cuts by

Wright, follows:

WOOSTER OPENS SEASON FRIDAY

Inexperienced Cage Squad Reports For Workouts; Wadsworth High Will Be First Opponent

WOOSTER, Dec. 10.—Coach Bob Jameson's Wooster High school basketball team will open its season here Friday night against Wadsworth.

The local team although handicapped by lack of experienced men, will attempt to keep the championship of the Northeast Ohio Big Ten which it captured last season.

The schedule: Dec. 12, Wadsworth, here; Dec. 19, Niles, here; Dec. 27, Vincent, there.

Jan. 2, Dover, there; Jan. 9, Orrville, here; Jan. 16, Dennison, here; Jan. 17, Ashland, there; Jan. 24, Massillon, here; Jan. 30, Alliance, here.

Feb. 6, Millersburg, there; Feb. 7, Wadsworth, there; Feb. 13, Orrville, there; Feb. 14, New Philadelphia, here; Feb. 20, Barboursville, here; Feb. 24, Ravenna, here.

Pennzip—will take you anywhere.

YOUNGSTOWN, Dec. 10.—Although sales were a little lighter in the drive to sell $12,000 in tickets for the milk fund boxing show in Rayen Wood auditorium, Dec. 13, enough cash was reported at a workers' luncheon today to bring the total to $4,691.

Emmet Rocco, Elwood City (Pa.) heavyweight, and Frankie Wine, Montana, in one 10-round, and Pinkey Kauman, New York welterweight, and Johnny Kusic, local boy, in another, headline the card.

LADIES: He's Wishing, While You're Wondering

The men on your list—the foxes—know pretty well by now that you are going to surprise them on Christmas morning. And they are only hoping that they won't be forced into a "two faced" sin of having to thank you for the fine cigars that there should be a fine on for smoking!

Give something stylish and useful from Bloomberg's and whether it costs 25c to $45 it won't cost him anything except appreciation.

LOYAL WOMEN'S CLASS

The Loyal Women's class of the Christian church, which has a membership of more than 100, will celebrate its 19th anniversary next Sunday.

The members will attend the morning church service in a body. In the evening they will serve tea at 6 and give a program at the service at 7:30.

Miss Adda Bensall, who has been teacher of the class for 16 years, was reelected at a social meeting of the class Tuesday evening at the church. The members presented here a gift.

Miss Bensall's assistants are: Mrs. J. B. Zeigler, Mrs. Virginia Courtney, Mrs. Cora Schwartz and Miss Phila Fields.

Mrs. A. I. Getz was reelected president of the class. Her associates are: Vice president, Mrs. O. H. Bates; secretary, Mrs. C. P. Scott; enrolling secretary, Mrs. Lloyd Heacock; birthday secretary, Mrs. Carrie Davis; treasurer, Mrs. Laura Conrad; trustee, Miss Ora Glass; pianist, Mrs. Minnie Haney.

Mrs. George Lozier's division had charge of the program. Mrs. Ross Clay gave a humorous reading. Miss Alta Moore contributed a violin solo, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Berry. Misses Ruth and Eleanor Bates sang a duet and played their own accompaniment on ukuleles. Contests furnished amusement. Mrs. Mary Robinson's division served lunch.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S CLASS

The Young People's class of the Christian church held a social Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Lyons, Washington avenue.

Games and music were diversions. Plans were made to help two needy families at Christmas time, and to give a play after the first of the year.

The class will observe "canned goods and pound day" next Sunday and the following Sunday "clothing and toy day." This food, clothing and toys will be used for the families the class will aid. For information the members are asked to call Mrs. L. B. Harris.

LEGION AUXILIARY

The American Legion auxiliary will send Christmas gifts to the Xenia Children's home. This was planned at a meeting of the auxiliary Tuesday evening at the home, East State street.

Thursday the auxiliary will hold an all-day sewing at the home, to work on garments gathered in for the needy of the city, by Charles H. Carey post No. 56. An invitation is extended to the women of the city to assist with this work. Those attending are to take lunch. Coffee will be served.

UNITY BIBLE CLASS

Plans were made to furnish a Christmas dinner for 12 families, at a meeting of the Unity Bible class of the Methodist Episcopal church Tuesday evening at the church. It was reported that the class had helped 14 needy families.

Atty. H. L. McCarthy gave a talk on the Bible. R. B. Snyder sang two solos accompanied by Mrs. Snyder. Robert Kaminsky played a cornet solo, accompanied by his sister, Rena Kaminsky. Lunch was served by a committee. The next meeting will be on Jan. 13.

TRAVELERS CLUB

In their study of "Glimpses Into Many Lands," members of the Travelers club gave a program on India at a meeting Tuesday afternoon at Memorial building.

The roll call response was "Favorite Magazine and Why?" "Historical Background" was the subject of Mrs. George Bunn's paper. Mrs. Stanton Heck gave a paper on "British Rule in India." Current events were in charge of Miss Myra Erwin. Dry Dec. 16 the members will meet again.

N. E. L. CIRCLE

Miss Leverda Capel was elected president of the N. E. L. circle of the First Friends church at a meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Mabel Cobb, Ellsworth road. Her assistant officers are: Vice president, Miss Mary Walker; secretary-treasurer, Miss Lorene Jones; assistant secretary-treasurer, Miss Vera Coy. The girls had a shower for Miss Nellie Lewis, missionary in India. Music and refreshments were diversions.

CARA NOME CLUB

Mrs. John Gonda, Mrs. Herbert Fischer and Miss Mary Alice Bartman received the prizes in the "500" games at a gathering of Cara Nome club members Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Paul Dean, Perry street. Three tables were in play in the games. Mrs. Dean served lunch.

In two weeks the members will meet with Mrs. Edwin Deagan, West Third street.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Regal and two children Mr. and Mrs. Paul Regal and son, Eugene, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Venable, Seventh street, Monday evening. The occasion celebrated the birthday anniversaries of Mr. Venable and Paul Regal. Dinner was served by the hostess.

COMMUNITY SOCIETY

The Hart's Community society which was scheduled to meet Thursday, has been postponed indefinitely.

Jefferson Freed, who has been ill of pneumonia at his home, south of Leontonia, is reported to be improved. Mr. Freed is the father of Mrs. Ella Switzer, West Pershing street.

MARTHA LANG CIRCLE

Miss Alta Whinnery, Mrs. Leroy Hartsough and Mrs. R. B. Snyder were associate hostesses at a meeting of the Martha Lang circle of the First Baptist church Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Whinnery, on East Ninth street.

Mrs. Harry Boody had the devotions. Mrs. William Butcher and Mrs. Robert Vickers had the chaplain from the study book, "Between the Americas." The hostesses served lunch at the social period.

ELIZABETH FRY CLASS

Mrs. Homer Ellyson and Miss Beesie Park were associate hostesses at the Christmas party of the Elizabeth Fry class of the First Friends church, taught by Mrs. L. L. McCaggage, Tuesday evening at Mrs. Ellyson's home, South Union avenue. Gifts were exchanged. Games and stunts contributed pleasure. The hostesses served lunch.

W. B. A. TO MEET

Members of the Women's Benefit association will have a cover dish supper at 6:30 p. m. Thursday at the hall. Roll call will be a feature and all members are asked to be present. The social committee will have charge of the supper. The lodge will convene at 8. Officers will be elected.

DAUGHTERS OF AMERICA

When Plymouth council No. 183 Daughters of America, met Tuesday evening at the hall, East State street, the members planned to have a Christmas exchange at a meeting in two weeks. Lunch will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Camp extended hospitality to their club associates Tuesday evening at their home, Lisbon road. Four tables were in play at the bridge games. High score honors went to Mrs. H. M. Huffman and W. R. Cribenbery. Lunch was served by the hostess.

Mrs. Floyd Booh, of Leontonia, who has been at the Salem City hospital recovering from an operation, has been taken to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Broomall, South Lincoln avenue.

Mrs. Albert Ryser of Prospect street, has returned from Detroit, where she spent two weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Berlin Steele.

Miss Mary Schmid, who has been ill for a month, has resumed her duties at the famous market.

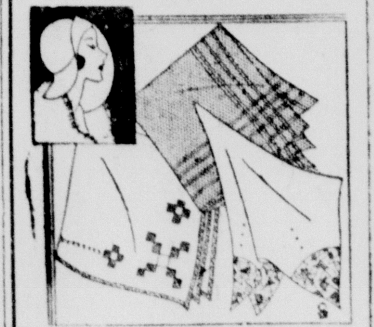

G. Elmer Diehl left Tuesday evening for Bedford, Pa., on a business trip.

LAWRENCE, Kas.—The dates for the next annual meeting of the Kansas Press Association have been set for Jan. 30 and 31, 1931, at Topeka, Kas., according to Col. C. H. Browne, president. The dates follow immediately after the "Kansas Day" dinner, which also is held here.

STATEMENT OF WOMAN IS READ

Prosecution Rests This Morning In Hearing Of Mary Tinney

apartments of Peter Dragish, 187 West State street. Dragish is being held as a material witness.

Police Chief Testifies

Statements made by Miss Tinney during questioning by Sheriff Barlow, Police Chief T. W. Thompson and other authorities at the city hall in Salem and county jail in Lisbon were brought out during testimony of various witnesses. Thompson said that the defendant had told him she was not at the Dragish apartments when the shooting occurred, declaring she had gone across the street to visit a friend, Zella Slaby.

Incidents leading to the recovery of the bullet which caused Murphy's death were related by Thompson while Patrolman Wilbur Hiddleston of the Salem police force told of finding the revolver allegedly used in the case in Dragish's automobile.

Miss Ursula Mullins, night nurse at the clinic hospital, told of Murphy's repeated refusals to say how he sustained the bullet wound in his neck. He was taken to the hospital by Dragish, Miss Dorothy Costlow, on duty at the institution when he was entered in the emergency ward, testified.

Wouldn't Name Assailant.

Miss Mullins told of requests made for paper and pencil by Murphy. He wrote the inquiry, "Am I going to die?" and she told him he was not, the wound at that time being believed to be of no great seriousness. Murphy, Miss Mullins testified, then wrote on the paper that he had not shot himself but that he was shot by a man whom he refused to name.

Mrs. Rose Gokjovich, Salem, sister of the defendant, testified that Miss Tinney had visited her between 7 and 8 p. m. on the night of the shooting and had told her Dragish

"checked Murphy to death." Mary then went to Lisbon, she said, where she was arrested by Sheriff Barlow at the home of relatives.

"Felt Better," Says Sheriff

Facts leading up to the alleged confession were related by Barlow who said that Miss Tinney stated, after signing the statement, "I sure feel better now that's off my mind." Prosecuting Attorney John E. Bauknecht said, on the witness stand, that the defendant had planned to plead guilty until she was questioned by her attorney, George T. Farrell of Lisbon, who urged her to enter a plea of not guilty.

It was explained by Coroner Sturgis that no autopsy had been held in Columbiana county after Murphy died, but one had been held at New Albany, Ind., which revealed that the death of Murphy was due to suffocation and strangulation, caused by clotted blood.

Residents Protest Extension Project

COLUMBIANA, Dec. 10.—Protests against the proposed annexation of rural territory to the village of Columbiana county have been made by residents of the outlying districts in petitions presented to village council.

The petitions represent a majority of property-owners in the rural areas and will probably result in a delay in action by council on the project, it was indicated at this week's session.

The village proposed annexation of territories lying north and east of present corporation lines.

VILLAGE SURVEY FILED IN OHIO

Four Communities Covered in Report; Findings Lodged Against Carrollton Clerk, Mayor

(By Brush Moore Leased Wire) COLUMBUS, Dec. 10.—A survey by State Examiner Ralph A. Riegler of Carroll county villages were filed Tuesday with State Auditor Joseph T. Tracy.

The survey included the villages of Delroy, Carrollton, Leesville and Malvern and covered the period between June 15, 1927, and July 9, 1930. It shows that illegal "items for recovery" amount to $1,742.37 against P. E. Preddy, clerk of Carrollton, and $753.50 against the same official, who also acts as mayor. Those were ordered repaid immediately.

Illegal payments total $707.63, of which the majority are against Malvern. One item in particular was paid by the village clerk to P. W. Ruffe for detective work, which was held contrary to law.

Officers Elected By Sunday School

The Sunday school of Holy Trinity English Lutheran church elected officers and set the date for its Christmas service at the annual meeting Tuesday evening at Memorial building.

H. E. Smith was elected superintendent, with Paul Wilms, his assistant. Other officers are: Secretary, Miss Blanche Kaiser; assistant secretary, Miss Sarah Schropp; treasurer, Mrs. A. H. Schropp; pianist, Miss Ruth Hech; assistant pianist, Miss Hilda Franke; chorister, Miss Elizabeth

Franke; librarians John Eckenroth, Esther Wilms, Joseph Wukotich; primary superintendent, Mrs. G. D. Keister; assistant superintendent and organist, Miss Betty Hinkle; home department superintendent, Mrs. James Hinkle; cradle roll superintendent, Mrs. Merle Caldwell. This school will cooperate with Salem chapter, Red Cross, in sending out Christmas baskets. The Christmas service will be on Sunday night, Dec. 28.

Never Ending Search

For better ways to
cut food prices

As food merchant to a nation, A&P bears a responsibility greater than that demanded of a mere trader in food. Selling food to great numbers of families involves the well-being of millions of people. Reducing the nation's food bill calls for more than the slashing of grocery prices.

It calls for everlasting watchfulness for better methods of food growing and producing, of shipping, of handling and storing, of marketing and retailing food—command of every invention and every means known to man for assisting the flow of food from its sources to the store counter.

Because A&P assumes the entire task of bringing food from producer to consumer, its responsibility to the public is greater than if it performed but a small part. Its search for better methods must be never-ending. Its way of lowering the cost of food to the consumer must be the best.

A&P makes food prices low by the best methods of Today. A&P will keep food prices low by the best methods of Tomorrow.

Advent Of Cold Weather Necessitates Improvements Of Roofs

Sheet Metal Work On Homes Necessary To Avert Serious Damage

Unless you had an inspection and such repair work as was needed last Spring, it is only friendly advice to urge you to look after the sheet metal work on the roof of your house, or any other metal work that is exposed to the elements. It is literally true in the use of sheet metal in building that if you save the surface you save all. The one great enemy is rust. Galvanized metal work of course is designed to overcome that destructive agency, but even that may be scratched by ice in the winter, or torn just a little, so that rust may enter. It is not unusual to find that metal has rusted from the underside, so that to the eye it appears sound, when in reality it is only waiting a load of ice or a violent wind to break through.

Left to itself, the homeowner will sooner or later find himself facing a pretty heavy bill for repairs. Taken in time, a little work often remedies the defect. Hence, before cold weather sets in, one should be sure that everything is in good shape.

Frequently, too, warm air pipes and especially the smoke pipe of the furnace rust through. Then when a fire is started the family finds it must let that fire go out and wait until it can secure a workman to make the repair, sometimes in the event of a cold snap early in the year suffering considerable discomfort.

Now is a good time to look after these things. Starbuck Bros. sheet metal house on North Ellsworth avenue will take the biggest job in that kind of construction, but they also look after the small jobs, and one is sure of experience and expert attention to this needs when he calls up this house on phone 1194.

GASOLINE KEEPS PACE WITH AUTO WORLD DEMAND

Sinclair gasoline, according to William F. Culler of the Culler Sinclair station at 12 West State street, has kept pace with motor improvements in its ordinary gas as well as in the high test. The improved popular priced cars with the high speed engines and those with an increased number of cylinders require a gasoline which will give perfect distribution to all cylinders at all speeds and temperatures, and it is claimed for the Sinclair regular gas that it gives perfect combustion without the heavy "ends" left in refining that burn with an explosive effect and thus induce knocking.

It is declared to vaporize instantly into a true gas that gives complete distribution and combustion, converting all the fuel into power for maximum mileage, so that a gasoline rain does not form in the manifold and run into the cylinders, diluting the oil.

Many people who use this gasoline for the first time are much impressed by this performance, and continue with it. The Culler station finds the number who are using Sinclair gasoline on the growth all of the time, and insists that quality alone is causing it.

Where a team of good horses can do work, M. W. Hannay is ready to furnish the team. He is a horse enthusiast—this man Hannay. He does a big trucking business, moving heavy things as a matter of choice, and to see one of his teams take hold and pull is worth looking at. Mr. Hannay or a long time has demonstrated what many people are just beginning to find out—that when the cost sheets are studied a team of horses is often the answer to decreased costs. With-out in any way disparaging mammoth trucks and their use, there is still need for good draft animals and animals with quality and strength are in demand.

Hannay deals in these. He buys and sells and the people sometimes say he knows how to trade horses so that both parties will be satisfied, which by and large is a rather remarkable performance. He usually has a number of animals on hand, and is in touch with sources of supply that make him a well known figure through a large part of the industrial section hereabouts.

His address is 538 Columbia street, and his telephone number is 1076.

NEW WATERFORD

Auxiliary organizations of the Methodist church meeting within the week included the W. F. M. S. on Tuesday evening with Mrs. Delmar Dyke. The Kings Heralds met Tuesday with Mrs. S. E. McCune. The 18 members present elected officers by re-electing Thelma Rogers for president; Mary Robinson as vice president; Madeline Bretz, secretary; and Anna Gotthardt, treasurer. The hostess served lunch.

On Thursday evening, Mrs. Lois Merriman was hostess to the Carrie Barge society when gifts were brought to be sent to the five teachers of the Browning home at Camden, S. C. as Christmas tokens.

Friday evening the committee in charge of the Sunday School Christmas entertainment met. Members of the committee include Mrs. Harry Unger, Mrs. Harlan Bradford, Mrs. V. T. James, and Miss Violet Ferguson.

Checks have been sent to the 88 members of the Christmas Savings club which total $3,800; this is an increase over last year.

Miss Violet Ferguson, chairman of the Red Cross membership drive, reports a total of 24 members as against 23 last year. Her aides were Mrs. Enos Harrold, the Misses Agnes Williams, Doris Unger and Ardith Rogers.

Mr. and Mrs. John Koch and daughter Helen were in Youngstown on Thursday where they attended the funeral services for Mrs. Koch's uncle, M. G. Erb, who died suddenly Monday.

A surprise party was held on Friday night honoring Miss Stella Sikorski of Rogers. Miss Sikorski was invited to the home by Mrs. Mary Phillips where she was met by 25 of her schoolmates representing the Junior and Senior classes of the high school. Rook was the chief diversion and prizes were awarded for high score to Erma Dyke and Harry Kan-nal. Miss Sikorski was presented with a traveling bag.

Beside the classmates of Miss Sikorski, Miss Johnston Miss Lytle and Mr. Blair of the High school faculty and Miss Charlotte Johnson were guests. Lunch was served. Mrs. Phillips being assisted by Mrs. Caldwell and Miss Evelyn Johnston. Returning from a deer hunt with a plentiful supply of venison, Mr. Klein and Joe Taylor entertained a number of their friends on Wednesday night. The guests assembled at the Taylor home. They included Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Scott, Dr. and Mrs. Holzbach of Salem; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Chenoweth of Youngstown; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Koch, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Barrow of Columbiana; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Devitt, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Koch and Miss Frances Dillon. Four tables of bridge furnished the after-dinner diversion with prizes going to Dr. Holzbach and Mrs. Barrow.

On Thursday night the guests included members of the East Ohio Gun club and were entertained at the Klein home with 500 as the entertainment. Ray Fisher of Columbiana winning the prize.

Mrs. Mary Tomy of Salem was a recent guest of her daughter, Mrs. Al Esterly, and family.

Rev. and Mrs. J. P. Cotton left on Saturday for Mt. Lebanon, Pa., where they will be the guests of their daughter, Mrs. Charles Morris and family.

O. O. Thomas was called to Portsmouth on Friday by the sudden death of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Roger Thomas.

The Goshen-New Waterford basketball game on Saturday night attracted a large crowd. The game was won by Goshen, the girls scoring 40 to 12 and the boys 19 to 13. New Waterford plays Columbiana next Saturday night here.

Held for Husband's Murder

Mrs. Clara Grace Prophet with her lawyer when she was arraigned at the hearing into her husband William's death. According to Philadelphia police

Mrs. Prophet confessed to a plot against her husband's life with her brother, Harold Williams. Police are said to have obtained a confession from Williams.

Satisfaction Of Customers Is Keynote Of Jewelry Business

Asked what he considered the most essential thing in modern business success, Art the Jeweler, known to his friends as Abe Art, located at 452 East State street, delivered himself of whole business sermon in one sentence of five letters:

"The customer must be satisfied." There was a time, not so many years ago, when many businesses were conducted on a different principle. The idea then was to get all the customer had on him by some device. There were instances where he was lucky to get out with his skin. But after a little of this some longheaded merchants concluded that the customer might at some date have more money to spend, and that it was well to leave a favorable impression that might bring him back to the store.

From that conclusion has grown our whole system of modern retailing, in which the first consideration is the customer. Every merchant wants him to buy, of course, but good merchants want him to be so well satisfied with his purchase that he will become a regular customer.

That is the principle upon which Art manages his jewelry store. A first essential is that the stock be right, the goods what they should be, the second is that these goods be sold without misrepresentation. A third is that the price be right. Therefore Art, in his short sentence, compressed modern merchandising principles in few words, and especially, perhaps entirely unconsciously, expressed his own purposes in the operation of his fine jewelry store.

Radios Give Best Results During Winter Seasons

The time of year when radios give their best performance is upon us. Although high power broadcasting eliminated a great deal of the usual static last summer due to the blanketing effect of the powerful carrier waves, there is no denying that the winter time with its crystal clear, cold nights offers the best opportunity for receiving programs over extremely long distances.

It is very likely that the folks who set up the real records for long distance reception in Salem this year will be those who are fortunate enough to own one of the new type sets, which have been developed recently, and equipped with screen grid tubes. In comparing the power of screen grid tubes as radio frequency amplifiers with the old style three element tubes, it is not an exaggeration to say that there is as much difference as there is between high test gasoline and kerosene for use in the automobile.

Stations which would ordinarily be so weak as to be inaudible in sets equipped with the old style tubes, are amplified by screen grid tubes to a point where these distant programs are heard with surprising volume.

Although "trying for distance" is not such a popular pastime among radio owners as it used to be, there is a feeling of satisfaction in knowing that one's set will "do its stuff" whenever it is necessary to call the bluff of a boastful friend. Perhaps this is one of the reasons why so many Salem folks are purchasing the new McMillan Screen Grid Radios. But there are many other reasons according to the many enthusiastic reports received from McMillan owners by the Salem Tool Company, local distributors in South Ellsworth avenue.

WASHINGTONVILLE

The Seventh and Eighth grades will give an entertainment in the school auditorium Friday afternoon, under the direction of the teachers, Messrs. Willis Carpenter and Belva Sautter, and Mr. Waldo Ward. The program, which consists of readings, music, and a play entitled "Pony Saves the Day." The cast includes: Mildred Burton, Susie Detweiler, Jean Marill, Clyde Getz, Francis Reinher, Ellen Myers, Helen Peters, Jean Weaver, Dorothy Tidd, Jack Miller, Alden West. The playlet is in two acts, showing an eighth grade spade hunt and a Freshman Frolic.

An interesting musical program is promised for Friday night, December 12 at the Columbiana school auditorium, when the Columbiana American Legion band, Charles Esenwein, conductor, will present a concert. In addition to band numbers, special features on the program will be: Joe Bernard's Accordion Trio; Louise Fullerton, Xylophonist; Harry Heltzel, violinist; and King's Melody Hawaiians. The band, which is self supporting and needs funds for incidental expenses, takes this means of replenishing the treasury, without making a public appeal.

Columbiana stores, with the exception of groceries will remain open evenings until nine o'clock for the benefit of Christmas shoppers, beginning Wednesday evening, December 17. The groceries will remain open evenings starting Saturday, Dec. 20th.

Under the auspices of the Columbiana Business Men's association, the usual Christmas decorations of small Christmas trees will be available to business houses along Main street in the business district.

The annual Fairfield Township Farmer's Institute will open Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the Centralized school building, with President S. D. Culp presiding and continuing through the balance of the week. Music will be furnished by the Mahoning County Horticultural quartet and by Fairfield talent. The following speakers appear on the program: Rev. J. C. Smith, Leetonia; Mrs. J. C. Pettey, Salem; Prof. L. D. Kepner, Lisbon;

MOVING IS NOW EASIER TASK IN MODERN SYSTEM

No one likes to think of the job of moving household goods to a new location. However one may better himself by the move, the actual doing of it is by no means a pleasant task. Compared, however to former methods or to other places, the job is comparatively easy in Salem when one calls in the facilities of the Harris Garage & Storage Co., phone 463.

This concern which combines the experience of 23 years with the best of facilities cannot make moving easy perhaps, but it can take off the mind of the mover a big load, take the good wherever they are wanted—a block or two or a 100 miles—in safety, and give courteous consideration to the wishes of the people most concerned. They have been doing that so long it is second nature.

The concern also offers the facilities of a storage warehouse where property is taken care of properly. It is prepared to do the whole job of moving for anyone, and its work in the long business career it has enjoyed is pretty good proof that such tasks entrusted to it will be taken care of properly.

OTTAWA, O. — Announcement has been made by Jerome Laubenthal, proprietor of a garage near here, that he would give the profits from sale of garage products the remainder of the year to aid the poor. Laubenthal has been doing a thriving business and has been forced to add two men to his force. Sale of five gallons of gasoline means some poor child is added to the amount of 15 cents.

TODAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

TONIGHT'S FEATURES

Capt. Frank M. Hawks, America's speed king of the air, will be interviewed by Grantland Rice, 10:30 p. m. WTAM. Len Joy's Orchestra plays.
Percy Grainger, pianist and composer, appears as guest on Mobil Oil Hour with Nat Shilkret's Orchestra, 8:30 p. m. WTAM.
Armenian National Chorus will present a broadcast over CBS Network, 10:30 p. m. Try WADC, Akron.
Those who enjoy the sound of the solid thud of mitt on chin will be able to dial part of the Cleveland News Christmas Fund boxing show in Public Hall tonight. Fidel La Barba, former fly-weight champ, and Eddie Shea are in the top spot. WHK cuts in on the card at 10. Phil Slesnick does the announcing.
It's been announced that Eddie Cantor, stage comedian playing Cleveland this week, will act as a general master of ceremonies at the show. You will probably hear Eddie's voice on the air.
WTAM is not certain that it could clear its commercial programs in order to carry the boxing broadcast. If the station is able to clear, Tom (Red) Manning will probably be the announced at the ringside.

BANDITS ESCAPE IN BANK THEFT

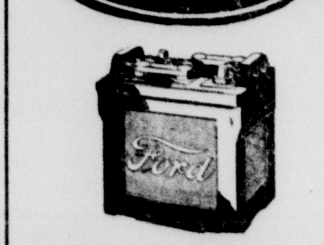

Robbers Force Employees Into Vault; Wait For Vault To Unlock

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 10.—The Interstate National bank was robbed today of $60,000 in cash by four bandits, who forced 29 employees to remain quiet while they waited for the time clock to release doors to the vault where the money was stored.
The four men met a porter as he was passing through the outer doors of the bank on his way to work. They forced him to admit them to the bank lobby, threatening him with death if he made an outcry.
A guard was kept concealed near the door to the bank. As each employee arrived, he was warned to keep silent and was taken to the rear of the building, there to wait under guard until the bandits could get into the vault. Swiftly the bandits opened the vault, seized the cash and fled.
They issued a final warning that anyone attempting to pursue them would be shot by a guard outside as they fled.
There were 29 employees herded together under guard of the outlaws by the time they were able to get into the vault.

BRIBERY CASE NEARING JURY

Niles Patrolman Denies Taking Money From Bootleggers

(By Associated Press)
WARREN, Dec. 10.—The bribery case of Edward Kennedy, dismissed police lieutenant who is alleged to have headed a protection and graft ring at Niles, was expected to go to the jury some time today.
Had "Side Income"
The defense rested last yesterday with Kennedy's denial that he had ever accepted money to protect Niles bootleggers. Cross-examined about his expenditures, the former officer said he had a "side income" of $110 a month besides his salary of $177, that he and his wife had saved carefully and that each of three children living at home paid $10 a week.
The state had attempted to show that he spent more than his income.
First To Go On Trial
Kennedy is the first of seven former Niles policemen to go on trial on bribery charges. Ten others who said they paid protection money are under indictment, but have been assured they will be given immunity in return for their testimony for the state.

MOVIES

"LOVES AMONG THE MILLIONAIRES"

At The State
"Love Among the Millionaires" plays for the last time at the State Theatre tonight. Starring Clara Bow it boasts of a fine cast including Guy Oliver, Stanley Smith, Skeets Gallagher, Stuart Erwin, Mitzi Green.

Imitations have won Mitzi Green a place in the sun and in everyone's heart. Nine year old Mitzi imitates the older folks and her latest specialty is Clara Bow, the red-headed star.

Mitzi is cast as Clara's little sister in the "T" girls' latest musical romance, and what Mitzi did in "Honey" is nothing to what she does to Clara. And the youngster has a song all her own in the picture called "Don't Be a Meanie."
"Love Among the Millionaires" is really Clara Bow's first appearance in a true musical romance. The story centers around a little waitress in a restaurant catering to railroad men. Gallagher and Erwin are two of her conquests but they are so bothered quabbling with each other over their rights that Stanley Smith, son of the railroad president, disguised as an ordinary brakeman, gets in a lot of love-making.

"GOOD NEWS"

At the Grand
"Good News," a talkie version of the famous musical comedy hit completes its run at the Grand theatre tonight.

Bessie Love heads the stellar cast assembled for the mirthful extravaganza and in the comedy role assigned to her she scales new heights, paired with Gus Shy, who created the comedy lead in the stage production. Miss Love and Shy contribute the laugh high-spot of the picture with their delightful "Gee, But I'd Like to Make You Happy" number that starts out as a cute little song and dance and winds up as a cyclonic Spanish fandango burlesque.

Stanley Smith, who scored as the hero in "Sweetie" and "Love Among the Millionaires," is the football captain juvenile, with Mary Lawlor, the demure ingenue of the stage, lending romantic assistance. Cliff (Ukulele Ike) Edwards chalks up another neat performance as the football trainer, as his song, "I'm Pessimistic," runs through the picture with hilarious plaint against cheerfulness.

LET HOOVER MANAGE.
QUESTIONS FOR EDISON.
A MERGER NEEDED.
JAPAN'S MIGHTY GROWTH.

—By Arthur Brisbane—
(Copyright 1930 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Patriots in Congress advertise their generosity by suggesting ways for disposing of public monies.

Fortunately President Hoover, who has spent efficiently in charity more money than anybody that ever lived, is in the White House, to discourage the would-be squanderers.

Bills already introduced would cost Uncle Sam four billion five hundred million dollars.

With "unemployment" for its excuse the cost would be more than the total cost of government for a year.

Congress should let President Hoover plan appropriations actually necessary and meet emergencies as they occur, supporting him loyally, not as a partisan, but as a public national matter.

Next week Rev. A. K. Shields, head of New Jersey anti-Saloon League, will put six questions on prohibition to Thomas A. Edison.

Mr. Edison says of Dwight H. Morrow: "Morrow knows nothing of the business and industrial world. He has been cooped up in his office and away from the working man."

Senator Morrow might ask Edison three questions.

First: Has prohibition stopped the drinking of whisky and is whisky worse or better than it was?

Second: Did boys and girls, including high school children, drink whisky before prohibition came as they do now?

Third: Has crime increased or diminished under prohibition?

News that a so-called "billion dollar merger" of four New York banks has been called off, is more important than appears in the mere announcement.

The importance will develop later unless some kind of an absorbing and protecting merger is accomplished.

In spite of earthquakes, tidal waves, and restricted territory census returns show that Japan's population is 64,557,000, more than four million increase in five years.

Greater Tokyo with a population of 4,968,000 is the world's third city. Including colonies, Japan's population is 50,000,000.

A great, powerful people the Japanese. What would be their number had they been able to spread unrestricted on our Pacific coast?

General Atterbury complains justly of an interstate commerce decision forbidding the Pennsylvania railroad to hold a control in the Lehigh Valley and Wabash railroads.

At this time especially the government which finds it difficult to help business should at least not interfere with it.

Big industrial and other units are the order of the day and operate more economically.

The country should have one great railroad system operated by the ablest men as it has one post office system and one telephone system.

Since that is impossible government should not keep railroads chopped up into innumerable small, inefficient blocks.

General Atterbury might ask the supreme court to decide the issue.

Railroads are having trouble enough without being subjected to unnecessary interference.

OSLO, NORWAY, Dec. 10.—Frank B. Kellogg, former American secretary of state, today received the Nobel peace prize for 1929 in the presence of King Haakon and a distinguished audience.

Dr. Nathan Soederblom, archbishop of Upsala, received the peace award for 1930.

Active in Cause of Peace

The award was voted to Mr. Kellogg for his activities in connection with the Kellogg-Briand peace pact. Dr. Soederblom has long been active in the cause of world peace and was the principal organizer of the Christian union conference held in Stockholm five years ago.

Four other Americans have won this award—Theodore Roosevelt in 1906, Elihu Root in 1912, Woodrow Wilson in 1919, and Ambassador Charles G. Dawes in 1925.

Another American, Sinclair Lewis, received this year's award in literature for his novel, "Babbalanza." This award will be made in Stockholm.

The achievements of Woodrow Wilson in the cause of peace were recalled by Premier Mowinkel in an address praising the work of Mr. Kellogg and Dr. Soederblom.

Wars Inevitable

"It is not enough," he said, "to declare war a crime. We must recognize that the murder of thousands of men to settle an international dispute is no more excusable than the murder of one man."

Mr. Kellogg expressed deep appreciation of the great honor accorded him and his country. He regretted, he said, to hear many voices raised in predictions of another war.

Western civilization, he said, could not survive another such conflict, but he declared he saw nothing to indicate another war in the offing.

$145 IS STOLEN AT COURTHOUSE

Money Taken From Cash Register As Clerk Leaves Office

LISBON, Dec. 10.—The cash drawer of the automobile and dog license tax office in the county courthouse, Lisbon, was robbed of $140 early Tuesday afternoon after Albert Ward, clerk on the office, was drawn from the office by a telephone call.

Shortly after noon, the office was visited by a young man who obtained change for a $5 bill from Ward. The man left and 15 minutes later called Ward by telephone, asking him to look for a checkbook which he said he had left in the basement.

Ward walked to the basement. He became suspicious when, on returning to the office, he saw the man who had earlier in the day obtained the change from him, and immediately inspected the cash drawer to find all money with exception of a $20 bill missing.

The call he received asking him to hunt the checkbook was traced and it was found to have been made from a pay station. Two men, seen driving from the court house in a Ford coupe just after the theft occurred are believed by county authorities to be involved.

Einstein To Arrive In U. S. Wednesday

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Professor Albert Einstein, noted German scientist, will arrive in New York tomorrow morning on the liner Belgenland. With Mrs. Einstein, he enroute to California by way of the Panama canal.

The liner will dock here tomorrow morning and remain until Monday. Prof. Einstein planning to remain on board the ship. Officials of the company owning the Belgenland said that no account of the noise at the docks they expected the scientist to seek quiet in a hotel.

Heads Eastward

WICHITA, KAS., Dec. 10.—Miss Ruth Nichols, Rye, N. Y., society aviatrix, took off here at 7:11 a. m. E. S. T. on the second and final lap of her transcontinental record flight attempt.

The aviatrix, attempting to better the Los Angeles-New York mark of Mrs. F. M. Keith-Miller, left in the face of cloudy conditions over the middle west. Weather reports were said to be favorable further east however.

She carried 390 gallons of gasoline, which she said would be sufficient to carry her to Roosevelt field, New York, without refueling. She hoped to arrive at her destination this afternoon.

2 NEWSPAPERS ARE PURCHASED BY BRUSH-MOORE

Eastern Ohio Group Will Include Mansfield And Lorain

(By Brush-Moore Leased Wire)

CANTON, Dec. 10.—Purchase by Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc., of the Mansfield News and the Lorain Times-Herald, both long established leading newspapers in their respective Ohio fields, was announced today.

Both papers were owned by R. C. Hoiles. Mr. Hoiles bought the Lorain Times-Herald about 10 years ago and later the Mansfield News and transferred his residence to the latter city.

The addition of these two newspapers makes a total of nine Ohio daily publications now owned and operated by Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc. Six properties have been purchased by the group during 1930, including, besides the Mansfield and Lorain properties, The Portsmouth Times and The Portsmouth Sun, which were promptly merged, a half interest in The Ironing Tribune, and The Canton Daily News, owned by former Governor James M. Cox and which was merged with the Canton Repository.

In addition to the Portsmouth, Ironing, Mansfield, Lorain and Canton properties the Brush-Moore group includes The Marion Star, purchased from the late President Harding, The Steubenville Herald-Star, The East Liverpool Review and The Salem News.

Negotiations involving the Lorain and Mansfield transactions were conducted by Louis H. Brush, president; Roy D. Moore, vice president and general manager, and William H. Vordrey, secretary-treasurer, on behalf of Brush-Moore Newspapers and by Mr. Hoiles and his son, Clarence H. Hoiles. The latter is publisher of The Bucyrus Telegraph-Forum which is not involved in the transaction and which he will continue to publish.

JUDGE LINDSEY BLAMES BISHOP

Disturbance In Church To Result In Court Trial In New York; Lindsey Hurls Charges

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Ben B. Lindsey plans to heap upon Bishop William T. Manning the blame for last Sunday's disturbance when he goes to trial Friday.

Lindsey disclosed today that in defending himself on a disorderly conduct charge he would contend the bishop incited a riot in the cathedral of St. John the Divine.

"Bishop Manning," he said, "Wilfully and without cause, provoked a breach of the peace by slandering me in the pulpit."

"Bishop Manning's false statement about me and what I stand for not only incited me to do what I did but it inflamed the mob spirit of his congregation, so that I was very fortunate to escape the honor of being burned at the stake or lynched at the cathedral."

Rotary Hears Talk By Hospital Head

Miss Esther Wilson, superintendent of Salem City hospital, addressed members of the Rotary club at their weekly luncheon meeting Tuesday.

Miss Wilson discussed the benefits derived from hospitals in all communities and gave an interesting and complete history of the Salem institution.

The important part a hospital and its nurses play in the development of a city was stressed by the speaker.

She was presented by C. S. Carr who was in charge of the meeting.

Salem Student In College Dramas

Charles Wilhelm of Salem will have a leading role in a group of one-act plays presented at Mount Union college Thursday evening.

The plays will be staged under direction of Prof. Karl Kettering. Wilhelm is a graduate of Salem High school and is prominent in dramatic activities at Mount Union.

Meeting Postponed

On account of the Farmers Institute at Winona a meeting of Willow Grove Grange which was to have been held Friday evening has been postponed for one week. At that time there will be a Christmas box and special program.

Conspirators Plant Bomb In Front Of Presidential Train

FOUR ARRESTED BY GOVERNMENT

Three Generals, Medical Student Said To Be Implicated

(By Associated Press)

SANTIAGO DE CHILE, Dec. 10.—An attempt against the lives of President Carlos Ibanez and members of his party was thwarted last night by government agents who discovered and removed a bomb set to blow up the presidential train as it neared the capital.

Detectives On Guard

Detectives who had been watching development of an "anarchist" plot against the president and his government for days, saw the conspirators place ten kilos of dynamite under the railroad bridge across the Rio Malpo, and then dismantled the charge before the president's train passed over it.

Four persons have been arrested and although their names were not learned it is said that one is a general in the Chilean army and one a medical student. Two others said to be generals are implicated in the affair.

Could Kill 100 persons

Police claimed that there was enough explosive in the charge to kill 100 persons.

The attempt against the president's life was not disclosed until just after the special train had arrived at the central station from Osorno, where the president inaugurated a livestock show.

PLANS CHARGES AGAINST JONES

District Attorney To Act In Newton Falls Bank Shortage

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Dec. 10.—The United States district attorney's office today was ready to file charges against Reese B. Jones, former president of the First State Bank of Newton Falls, if the state does not take action. Jones is short $28,000 and possibly more in his accounts, according to bank examiners.

Will Press Charges

Assistant District Attorney William J. McDermott said whether Jones makes restitution "will make no difference in our investigation after we learn definitely whether Prosecutor George H. Burrell is going to press charges under the state laws. This we have given him the opportunity to do, as it is a state bank."

"Since this is a federal reserve member bank as well, if the evidence warrants, we will lose no time in acting ahead with the prosecution of Jones if Burrell steps aside in the case."

Federal Reserve Probe

A separate investigation is being made for federal authorities by William H. Fletcher, assistant agent for the federal reserve bank of Cleveland.

Jones is held in the Trumbull county jail at Warren without charges.

18 IN HOSPITAL AFTER INHALING AMMONIA FUMES

Near Panic Started As Refrigeration System Breaks

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Dec. 10.—Eighteen persons remained in Charity hospital today recovering from ammonia fumes breathed when a refrigeration system connection broke in the grocery and restaurant of Chandler Rudd & Co., near the public square yesterday.

64 Given Treatment

The 18, all but one of them women employees, were among the 64 given hospital treatment when ammonia fumes rushed through the store and started a near panic. None of them, however, would suffer permanent harm and were more ill from shock and fright than from the fumes, physicians said.

The ammonia rushed through the store and principally through a passage leading to the restaurant on the balcony where 125 women and children were lunching.

Those overcome did not drop until they reached the street, and drew fresh air into their lungs. Women fell on the pavement on East Third street off Euclid avenue and a general alarm went out or ambulances and physicians. Before the ambulances arrived, trucks and automobiles were used to rush the victims to hospitals.

There were about 500 employees and customers in the store, but little of the gas escaped into the main part of the building.

Store officials said a bushing on a connection between a 100-pound tank of liquid ammonia and a refrigerator machine gave way.

MASONIC PARTY THURSDAY NIGHT

Musical Program To Be Followed By Dancing And Lunch; Sinclair Will Preside

A Christmas party, with a musical program and dancing as features, will be held at Masonic temple Thursday night under the auspices of Perry Lodge No. 185 F & A M.

J. H. Sinclair of Hanoverton will be master of ceremonies during the program scheduled to start at 8 and continue until 9:30. This will include a piano duet by the Simpson sisters, readings by Mr. Jolly of Belmont, soloists by Salem cornet players; trombone solos, jokes and vocal solos by A. J. Palmer of Salem, former minstrel; guitar duet by Wolford brothers.

Ray Bartholomew's orchestra will play for dancing from 9:30 until 12. Lunch will be served during the dancing hours.

This party is for Masons and their families and each Mason is privileged to invite a guest couple.

Quota Club Plans Work For Charity

The Quota club held a dinner meeting Tuesday evening at the Quaker Tea House East State street, and received Mrs. Mabel DeRholes Douth as a new member.

The club planned to do some charity work at Christmas time, similar to that in former years.

Instead of holding a bridge party this year, the members are selling candy to make money for the educational fund. The club loans money, without interest, to young women seeking an education.

Arthur Brisbane Guest Of Kin, W. H. Mullins, Here

Famous Writer Expresses Confidence In Early Business Revival; Visits Mullins Plant, Memorial Building

Arthur Brisbane of New York City, internationally known writer, on a visit to the manufacturer's plants in Dearborn, Mich.

Guests of Manufacturers

Ford, as well as Edward Wentworth Beatty, president and chairman of the Canadian Pacific railway, and B. C. Forbes, financial critic, in addition to Mr. Brisbane, were guests of the manufacturers.

In his first visit with Mr. Mullins in a number of years, the eminent New York writer declared of the Salem manufacturer that, in his opinion, "He is looking better now than he has appeared in the last 10 years."

Mr. Brisbane paid great tribute to the part that the Mullins plant is playing in the progress and development of this community and the roles similarly enacted by the builders and manufacturers of other American communities.

Income to Wages

"Production costs through the use of modern appliances have been cut tremendously," he pointed out, "and now the great bulk of plant income goes out in wages that buy food and clothing and other necessities as well as the comforts of life."

Mr. Brisbane arrived by train this morning from Chicago. He inspected the Mullins plant and also the Memorial building, made possible to the community by Mr. Mullins.

He again expressed his enjoyment of the beauty of the City of Salem, and "its comforting, old American atmosphere."

Lauds Mullins Adaptability

He expressed himself as keenly interested in the work he saw at the Mullins plant and commented especially of the local company in the way of diversification.

In speaking of business conditions, Mr. Brisbane pointed out that a few years ago intellectual people started to kill one another. They succeeded, he said, in slaughtering millions of men and wasting billions of dollars in wealth.

"Speculators thought they would not have to pay the cost of this," he said, "but now they are paying. We again must develop our customer buying power and when that comes trade will come back to normal."

After luncheon here, Mr. Brisbane was to go by motor to Pittsburg. After visiting newspaper plants there, he will continue to New York City.

CLEVELAND JURY PROBES SLAYING

Special Investigation Started In Death Of 23-Year-Old Youth By Detective Tuesday

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Dec. 10.—The killing of Joseph Fortini, 23, by Detective Patrick McNeely yesterday was the subject of a grand jury investigation today.

McNeely said he shot Fortini in the belief that the youth, a district circulation manager for the Plain Dealer, was "Emiling Joe" Filkowski, ex-convict and reputed gang leader who has been the center of a man-hunt since he shot his way through a cordon of detectives last Saturday night.

Fortini came out of a poolroom. McNeely stepped behind him and commanded: "Throw up your hands. I am a policeman." Fortini said he thought the youth was about to fire. McNeely shot and Fortini fell with a bullet in the left side of his back, dying a half an hour later.

Stalin's Trick

HOLLYWOOD, CAL., Dec. 10.—Been a awful lot in the papers lately about Russia. Funny thing about human nature, when we ain't feeling so good ourselves, we always want to read about somebody that is worse off than we are.

That was a terrible trick that fellow Stalin played on those eight convicted men. They had confessed, thinking they would be hung and put out of their misery. Now he tells 'em they got to live, and in Russia.

Not changing the subject, but somebody was just telling us that congress was in session. We certainly hope that rumor was unfounded.

STATEMENT OF ACCUSED WOMAN READ IN COURT

Prosecution Rests Case In Hearing Of Mary Tinney

SHERIFF, CORONER CALLED TO STAND

Nurse Tells Of Slain Man's Refusal To Tell Name Of Assailant

BULLETIN

LISBON, Dec. 10.—The defense was expected to rest its case late this afternoon.

Miss Lottie Slabey, 180 West State street, Salem, and Mrs. W. J. Barlow, matron at the county jail here, testified as witnesses for the defense this morning.

Witnesses for the defense testified today in common pleas court, Lisbon, in the second degree murder trial of Mary Tinney, 22-year-old Salem woman, charged with the death of Frank Murphy, 32, also of Salem, following a party held here last July.

Miss Tinney is expected to take the witness stand in her own defense this afternoon.

An Indiana doctor who presided at the autopsy held on Murphy's body after it was sent to his home, has been notified by the state to appear. He may arrive this afternoon, permission having been granted to Prosecutor John Baucknecht to call him on the stand on his arrival in Lisbon.

The state closed its case against the woman after calling 34 witnesses this morning and defense testimony was taken up when court convened this afternoon.

Statement Is Read

A statement signed by Miss Tinney in / 3h she admitted having shot Murphy after he said to have / led her, was admitted as evidence to climax the state's case Tuesday afternoon. The statement was written by Sheriff William J. Barlow and witnessed by Coroner Ernest R. Sturgis after the woman was questioned in connection of the shooting on Sunday, July 13, the day after Murphy died in Central Clinic hospital from a bullet wound in his neck.

The statement follows:

"I, Mary Tinney, make this statement of my own free will without any promise or any undue influence from the sheriff or Mr. Sturgis.

"Murphy and I were in the kitchen. Pete was up stairs. Murphy insulted me and I said: 'you see that gun there on the table? If you don't take that back I'll shoot you.' I took the gun in my hand, pointing it at Murphy. Just then Pete came down stairs and grabbed my hand, then I pulled the trigger. The gun went off and the bullet struck Murphy in the neck."

The shooting occurred at the

TEXTBOOK FOR IBITZERS

There is a choice group of gentlemen in the United States who know exactly what is wrong with the country and how to correct it. You may have been seated next to one of them at a banquet some time or other.

These economic "kibitzers" were presented with a book of instructions recently. In it was a list of all the things that are wrong with all countries. They can take their choice. The "book" is the report of the international chamber of commerce showing twelve reasons for the world-wide economic depression. Experts of 28 nations cooperated to make it authentic.

The causes are:
Overproduction.
Decline in commodity prices.
World agricultural crisis.
Industrial unemployment.
Political unrest.

Partial closing of several world markets, notably India and China.
Varied bases of monetary circulation.
Disequilibrium between short and long term credits.

Fall of silver prices.
"Dumping" of goods by Soviet Russia.

Unprecedented taxation to meet international indebtedness.

Excessive state participation in private enterprise.

Thus equipped with authoritative material, "what's wrong with the world?" becomes a more zestful game, particularly since it is understood that the compilers of the list had half a dozen more "causes" that not included. So massive is the account of that which is wrong that the bewildered layman is moved to wish that someone would hurry and make a list of that which is right, else it ceases to be the "good old world" mentioned with such reverence by our fathers.

A DIFFERENCE

Five Russians sentenced to death for complicity in a treason plot is one thing—both for Russians and others throughout the world who may be interested.

Five Russians, convicted of complicity in a treason plot, whose death sentences have been commuted to 10 years imprisonment and confiscation of their property, is another thing—particularly when the rest of the world is given to understand that the proletarian state does not desire revenge on beaten and disarmed enemies.

When the five Russians in each case happen to be the same ones, when death sentences, imposed after a trial broadcast for the benefit of all Russians who needed to be apprised of the fate of public enemies, are commuted to 10 years of imprisonment—then the whole affair becomes something else. Propaganda.

The opinion of readers in the United States, formed by brief and sometimes conflicting dispatches from Russia, is generally inclined to the view that the trial of the engineers charged with plotting to overthrow the Soviet regime has been neither more nor less than a ghastly play to stir enthusiasm for the government. Many days ago when the trial started, sensible people agreed that the test of its sincerity would be the ultimate fate of the eight prisoners held. Now, it appears that five of them are to remain in jail for 10 years, and three for shorter sentences. The propaganda has been concluded with a noble gesture—an extension of clemency because the Soviet does not take revenge on helpless enemies. Thus it is that the illiterate masses of Russia are being taught to honor their new government—by vicious misrepresentation calculated to feed the flame of their hatred for the enemies they have been encouraged to believe are awaiting an opportunity to destroy them.

What Others Say

THE LAWLESS ALIEN

Congress will serve the country well if it acts upon the President's recommendation that the deportation laws be strengthened to facilitate the enforced departure of criminal aliens. American citizens of vicious habit are a menace sufficiently serious without having the problem of law enforcement complicated by the activities of debased humanity from far countries. That these aliens play a prominent part in the war upon society in this country goes without the saying. The President's recommendation should be adopted with as little loss of time as possible.

Mr. Hoover goes further. He calls attention to the thousands of persons who have entered the country in violation of the immigration laws. As he says, the method of their entrance indicates their generally objectionable character, although that statement might be qualified by the admission that some who have violated the law in getting into the country have proved law-abiding thereafter. But such exceptions do not justify laxity in dealing with this condition. So again the President is right when he urges that the laws be strengthened.

America welcomes those of other lands who in coming here comply with the provisions of the law and observe it thereafter. As the President indicates, it is only doing justice to them that the lawless be kept out, or if they succeed in getting in that they be put out.—Boston Transcript.

NEW YORK Day by Day

by O.O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—An indoor caprice these wintry days is sitting at a window to watch steel workers and riveters on the top floor of a 43-story building near by. Through binoculars one may follow the dizzy exploits of men who have apparently conquered fear.

They are as sure-footed on a narrow beam spun high in the clouds as a cat on the prairie. In instances they jog along like Mexican ponies over a mountain trail. Sometimes they teeter and sway in the swift wind so perilously that a watcher has to turn away.

At times they even grow prankish. This noon a number of them were lurching, their legs dangling in the air. A joker above sloshed them with a bucket of water. The slightest slip would have meant a rush to oblivion but everybody laughed heartily.

One of their casual stunts is to pass each other on a slim beam. They grip shoulders and with a turn like the quick spin of a waltz go on their way. A few of them have mascots, a dog or cat that follow about with the same sureness.

A disaster is costly to contractors. If a steel worker falls it is the invariable custom for the rest to knock off work for the day. The experts are mostly cigar smokers but rarely drink. Booze and steeple-jacking do not mix. Butter-milk is the favorite tipple.

The majority of the intrepid artisans are married, devoted family men with highly developed sentimentalities. They know that each day offers the hazard of being their last. Frequently their wives by appointment wave to them from the sidewalks.

As a rule they are farm bred boys who acquired the sturdiness hard work and life in the open give. Their big task is one of concentration. They train themselves to reject any suggestion of fear or thought of a false step.

Hollywood spies report a transported New Yorker as the most rabid of the sun batters. He sits at his desk with the sun streaming in on him bare to the waist. When ladies call he slips into a bath robe.

A gentleman whose calling card announced Noble N. Noble just called. He wanted to inform me his middle name also was Noble and to write a line about it. I seemed worth while. I have a suspicion there is a catch. But here it is.

Those quaint beer cottages with Bavarian fronts once confined to the Yorkville German section, are now blooming in the Furiosus Forties. They feature such dishes as pig knuckles with sauer kraut, schmeer-kase and the like and flagons of brew that taste like the real article. The hat check girl in one insisted on a patron taking the check she offered last night. "You won't know your hat from a high bicycle when you leave," she warned.

That asylum of idiocy known as The Village Nut Club is another spot for stayout on the loose. It conforms to its name and includes the unwashed diner with the sad eyes of a scutch-owl who occupies a table and eats salt herring he pulls from various pockets while scribbling his poetry. He is a prop.

In old Greenwich Village days there were Tiny Tim and his "soul" candy; Sonia the cigaret girl; Harry Kemp the tramp poet; Bobby Edwards thrumming masochistic blues on his cigar box ukelele; Clivette, the man in black; Peter the smocked silhouette cutter and Takhiro, the hatless Japanese futurist. And whither have they scattered? Bruno's book shop and Grace Godwin's candle-sputtering earset are also no more. Only the Black Cat and Madam Bertolotti's remain. Like beloved Broadway the song laments. The Village is a fake, it's a phony.

The narrow street known as Barrow seems the only village thoroughfare untouched by the gush of progress. It remains like a transplanted stretch of the Left Bank—an old cameo on a late frock by Patou.

Telegram from Newark: "A fresh loaf of chittlin bread awaits you in this cafe."

The Stars Say

For Thursday, December 11

A very lively and eventful day is the presage based on the interesting lunar and mutual configurations of the ruling planets. With the mysterious and intriguing planet Neptune in active operation, assisted by the convertible Mercury also—strong lunar aspect, the novel, strange and unique may be anticipated. New projects and contracts are in order, but there are signs of small anxieties, sudden changes and financial perils to be considered. Also some duplicity.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by an intriguing year in which the erratic, peculiar or unusual may occur, with new undertakings of a singular or subtle nature, and possibly in connection with combines or secret societies. There may be small anxieties and tests and the finances may give concern. A child born on this day should be versatile and shrewd and may incline to secret and subtle ways of attaining its ends. It may be literary and mystical.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

Strengthening Muscles
It is only with good health and vigor that we can depend upon accuracy and speed of the body muscles. How much better it is to learn how to keep fit than to patch up the body after some disease has attacked us.

Do you realize how dependent you are on the power to move? Our body muscles are under orders every single waking moment. We just have to see to it that they are kept in good condition for the wear and tear of living.

Upon the ease and perfection of movement is founded your welfare as a human being. You do your daily tasks, you go about your affairs, you make yourself useful, through the muscular movements you have adopted.

Every form of motion depends upon the ability of joints and muscles to act in harmony. The bones of the body are related to each other through the joints. One of the chief uses of the bones is to furnish a secure place of attachment for the muscles which operate the movements of the body. The bones work freely because the joints give them freedom to play.

The mechanism of the body is truly wonderful. In the normal person the bones are of the right size and shape. All the machinery is ready for motion, but continued motion depends upon how we use and care for the machinery.

There is no voluntary motion without muscular control exercised by nerves and brain. The play of the muscles depends a lot upon the nervous system. One part of the body depends on all the other parts. The whole must be kept in good repair.

Everything depends upon proper nutrition, the right exercise, rest and sleep, fresh air and sunlight. Your diet must be such that tissues, muscles, bones and nerves are well nourished. Your exercise must be adequate and not too vigorous. If you don't observe the rules of right living you have to pay the penalty in less efficient muscular action.

Too many persons neglect all or part of these important rules of living, until all of a sudden they are played out. A careless person may go a good many years, and, according to his "constitution," or his resistance to disease, he may enjoy apparently good health until he breaks down long before he should.

How many persons there are who have a chronic tired feeling and exhaustion, or some form of rheumatism or other disease fastened upon them. They are handicapped in their movements.

Of course, there are many who are overtaken by misfortune, and our hearts go out to such. But for those who are able to control their destinies, it is a solemn duty to keep fit, and to live as useful lives as possible. To them I am talking today.

Everyone should have daily exercise. Even miniature golf has its good points. Walking is one of the most splendid of exercises.

A lot has been said lately about exercise, and more exercise. But words mean nothing. Action does. Don't be one of those persons, like the proverbial ostrich with its head in the sand, to say, "It doesn't matter." It does matter whether you keep yourself fit. To live a useful life, that is absolutely essential.

Financial Returns From 1930 Grid Contests Reach High Mark

Business Of Football Is Unharmed During Year Of Depression In U.S. A.

(By United Press)

COLUMBUS, Dec. 10.—The "business" of football which represents an investment of millions of dollars, suffered little from the economic depression of 1930, a national survey disclosed today.

Football again was a $100,000,000 industry and gate receipts for the major colleges of the country were nearly as high as in 1929, the banner year for pigskin activities. A few schools reported slight decrease in cash customers but nearly as many reported increases. These fluctuations more often are due to the quality of the team than to business depression.

539,000 See Notre Dame

Notre Dame, accepted as the national football champion because of its impressive record, played before 539,000 spectators this season. These spectators paid somewhat more than $1,000,000 to see Knute Rockne's team go through its successful season.

In addition to Notre Dame, there probably were at least 10 other schools whose drawing power exceeded $500,000. The largest single crowd of the season saw Army play Notre Dame at Chicago. It was estimated 105,000 persons saw the game, just 10,000 short of the all-time attendance mark.

The tendency of the fans was to remain away from the unimportant games but to give whole-hearted patronage to the games involving strong teams. This has been the case in normal times.

Northwestern Receipts High

Kenneth L. Wilson, athletic director at Northwestern university, reported that receipts were greater than ever before. This was not phenomenal, however, as Northwestern was co-champion of the Big Ten with Michigan.

Attendance at the University of Illinois fell off 19 per cent but this was not more startling as Coach Zuppke had his poorest team in years. George Huff, head of the athletic department at Illinois, did not blame business conditions and indicated a normal team would have attracted normal gate receipts.

Illinois will go ahead with its plan to spend $400,000 for athletic facilities despite the decreased financial returns.

by Robert Woodworth director of sports relations at Purdue university where decreased patronage had made it necessary to curtail the program of minor sports. Woodworth declared that football was not to blame because the season's receipts of $172,000 broke all records. He was of the opinion that football interest had increased instead of decreased.

Hard Times Blamed

Ohio State university suffered greatly from lack of spectators. According to Athletic Director L. W. St. John, the attendance figures were 100,000 smaller than last year. He said that the enthusiasm of Ohio State fans had not faltered but blamed "hard times" for the poor show.

Coach A. A. Stagg, of the University of Chicago, was of the opinion that the Maroons' following had not dwindled this season.

The Western Conference situation was summarized by Major John L. Griffith, commissioner, who said: "There will be some decrease in receipts this year due to Iowa's poor schedule, the playing of the Michigan-Harvard game at Cambridge instead of Ann Arbor and the Chicago and Illinois teams being below average. However the interest is just as marked as formerly. Football in the conference is conducted as part of the educational process and consequently we have no excesses to correct."

Season Limited

"Our season is limited, we play no post-season games and tickets are sold to students for 50 cents a game."

Major Philip B. Fleming, of West Point, declared that Army's attendance was below 1929 but ahead of 1928. He said that enthusiasm among the Cadets was higher this year than ever.

Harvard felt a sharp decrease in gate receipts due mostly to rainy weather. Pennsylvania's athletic heads were "very gratified" over the 1930 attendance which equaled that of last year. At Cornell there was practically no variation one way or the other.

THE DAY In Sports

GRIDIRON MEMORIES

Some vivid memories and personal opinions on the football season after witnessing ten games played in three sections of the country—east, middle-west and far west:

Greatest all-around player: Frank Cardiac, Notre Dame.

Best line plunger: Reb Russell, Northwestern, who ripped Notre Dame's line to pieces.

Best running back: Markey Schwartz, Notre Dame, who was never stopped by any team.

Best blocking back: Marty Brill, Notre Dame.

Hardest hitting back: Jack Manders, Minnesota giant.

Greatest all-around lineman: Bert Metzger, 133-pound Notre Dame guard who was never outplayed and whose remarkable blocking made many a long run possible.

Best passers: Harry Newman, Michigan and Pug Renner, Northwestern.

Best pass catchers: Frank Baker, Northwestern, and Tom Conley, Notre Dame.

Most spectacular lineman: Reb Woodworth, Northwestern guard, who played his position like an end.

Biggest mystery of the season: Why Northwestern, Carnegie Tech and Southern California all fumbled at crucial moments against Notre Dame.

Most thrilling play: Marshall Duffield, Southern California quarterback, retrieved a bad pass from center just before the ball went out of bounds and kicking over Notre Dame's goal-line while standing almost in the arms of two Notre Dame players.

Longest and prettiest punt: Harlow Rothert, Stanford fullback, booting one 60 yards from scrimmage against Dartmouth.

Best single exhibition of punting: Carideo kicking out of bounds three times in a row inside Northwestern's 3-yard line.

Most surprising play: Dutch Eyth, Carnegie Tech halfback, getting through the Notre Dame line and running 70 yards for a touchdown without a Notre Dame man putting a finger on him.

Most under-rated player, Alvin Culver, Big Notre Dame tackle, who was always bobbing up with a great play at a critical moment like recovering a fumble on his own 1-yard line against Northwestern and another in the Southern California game which led to Notre Dame's first touchdown.

Gamest exhibition: Johnny Kitzmiller, Oregon halfback, playing on his nerve against St. Mary's, and being almost unable to get up after he was knocked down in the latter part of the game.

Hardest single tackle: Schwartz, Notre Dame, hitting Russell, Northwestern, head on and laying Russell out cold.

Hardest luck play: Fletcher, Oregon end, catching a pass for what would have been the winning touchdown against St. Mary's, then dropping the ball over the goal line.

Most serious football fans: the Los Angeles variety.

Most picturesque section: Southern California.

Hardest fought game: Notre Dame and Northwestern battling 53 minutes without a score before the Irish could break the deadlock.

Lowell Allen, Bob Cope On Varsity Cage Squad

ALLIANCE, Dec. 10.—Mount Union cagers get their first real test of the 1930-31 season, battling the strong Akron University court team in a doubleheader at Akron Friday night.

The Alliance cagers opened their campaign with an easy victory over the Hoover Sweeper team of North Canton last week but Coach Wright was not able to ascertain full strength of his team due to the lack of opposition, the Akron games being expected to give the mentor a real line on season's prospects.

Allen, Cope Look Good

Lowell E. "Little Rib" Allen, former Salem High star athlete, and holder of the world's interscholastic pole vault record, and Robert "Bob" Cope, varsity center at Salem for two seasons, are expected to prove great assets to the Mountmen during the season. Both got their chances in the game against the Sweepers and made good showings.

Cage veterans who have as yet not been given strenuous workouts, Wright permitting them to enjoy a short lay-off from training because of their participation in football, will be back in harness this week and will probably see action in the Akron games. The advent of new material into the spotlight insured Wright of excellent material for both varsity and reserves and there is every indication that the college will be represented by another great cage team.

Salem Lads Head Prospects

Allen and Cope, together with Lowell Lamb and Dawson Curtis of Alliance, were the leading sophomores "finds" uncovered by Wright this season. The varsity squad as it now stands following latest cuts by

LOYAL WOMEN'S CLASS

The Loyal Women's class of the Christian church, which has a membership of more than 100, will celebrate its 19th anniversary next Sunday.

The members will attend the morning church service in a body. In the evening they will serve tea at 6 and give a program at the service at 7:30.

Miss Adda Bonsall, who has been teacher of the class for 16 years, was reelected at a social meeting of the class Tuesday evening at the church. The members presented here a gift.

Miss Bonsall's assistants are: Mrs. J. B. Zeigler, Mrs. Virginia Courtney, Mrs. Cora Schwartz and Miss Phila Fields.

Mrs. A. I. Getz was reelected president of the class. Her associates officers are: Vice president, Mrs. O. H. Bates; secretary, Mrs. C. P. Scott; enrolling secretary, Mrs. Lloyd Heacock; birthday secretary, Mrs. Carrie Davis; treasurer, Mrs. Laura Conrad; trustee, Miss Ora Glass; pianist, Mrs. Minnie Hanan.

Mrs. George Lozier's division had charge of the program. Mrs. Ross Clay gave a humorous reading. Miss Alta Moores contributed a violin solo, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Berry. Misses Ruth and Eleanor Bates sang a duet and played their own accompaniment on ukuleles. Contests furnished amusement. Mrs. Mary Robinson's division served lunch.

The Young People's class of the Christian church held a social Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. W. N. Lyons, Washington avenue.

Games and music were diversions. Plans were made to help two needy families at Christmas time, and to give a play after the first of the year.

The class will observe "canned goods and pound day" next Sunday and the following Sunday "clothing and toy day." This food, clothing and toys will be used for the families the class will aid. For information the members are asked to call Mrs. L. B. Harris.

The American Legion auxiliary will send Christmas gifts to the Xenia Children's home. This was planned at a meeting of the auxiliary Tuesday evening at the home, East State street.

Thursday the auxiliary will hold an all-day sewing at the home, to work on garments gathered in for the needy of the city, by Charles H. Carey post No. 56. An invitation is extended to the women of the city to assist with this work. Those attending are to take lunch. Coffee will be served.

UNITY BIBLE CLASS
Plans were made to furnish a Christmas dinner for 12 families, at a meeting of the Unity Bible class of the Methodist Episcopal church Tuesday evening at the church. It was reported that the class had helped 14 needy families.

Atty. H. L. McCarthy gave a talk on the Bible. R. B. Snyder sang two solos accompanied by Mrs. Snyder. Robert Kaminsky played a cornet solo, accompanied by his sister, Rena Kaminsky. Lunch was served by a committee. The next meeting will be on Jan. 13.

TRAVELERS CLUB
In their study of "Glimpses Into Many Lands," members of the Travelers club gave a program on India at a meeting Tuesday afternoon at Memorial building.

The roll call response was "Favorite Magazine and Why?" "Historical Background" was the subject of Mrs. George Bunn's paper. Mrs. Stanton Heck gave a paper on "British Rule in India." Current events were in charge of Miss Myra Erwin. On Dec. 16 the members will meet again.

N. E. L. CIRCLE
Miss Leverda Capel was elected president of the N. E. L. circle of the First Friends church at a meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Mabel Cobb, Ellsworth road. Her assistant officers are: Vice president, Miss Mary Walker; secretary-treasurer, Miss Lorene Jones; assistant secretary-treasurer, Miss Vera Coy. The girls had a shower for Miss Nellie Lewis, missionary in India. Music and refreshments were diversions.

CARA NOME CLUB
Mrs. John Gordis, Mrs. Herbert Fischer and Miss Mary Alice Barran received the prizes in the "900" games at a gathering of Cara Nome club members Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Paul Dean, Perry street. Three tables were in play in the games. Mrs. Dean served lunch.

In two weeks the members will meet with Mrs. Edwin Deagan, West Third street.

BIRTHDAY DINNER
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Regal and two children Mr. and Mrs. Paul Regal and son, Eugene, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Venable, Seventh street, Monday evening. The occasion celebrated the birthday anniversaries of Mr. Venable and Paul Regal. Dinner was served by the hostess.

COMMUNITY SOCIETY
The Hart's Community society which was scheduled to meet Thursday, has been postponed indefinitely.

Jefferson Freed, who has been ill of pneumonia at his home south of Leontina, is reported to be improved. Mr. Freed is the father of Mrs. Ella Switzer, West Pershing street.

Pennzip—for a winged motor.

MARTHA LANG CIRCLE

Miss Alta Whinnery, Mrs. Leroy Hartsough and Mrs. R. B. Snyder were associate hostesses at a meeting of the Martha Lang circle of the First Baptist church Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Whinnery, on East Ninth street.

Mrs. Harry Booty had the devotions. Mrs. William Butcher and Mrs. Robert Vickers had the chapter from the study book, "Between the Americas." The hostesses served lunch at the social period.

ELIZABETH FRY CLASS
Mrs. Homer Elyson and Miss Beale Park were associate hostesses at the Christmas party of the Elizabeth Fry class of the First Friends church, taught by Mrs. L. L. McCaggage, Tuesday evening at Mrs. Elyson's home, South Union avenue. Gifts were exchanged. Games and stunts contributed pleasure. The hostesses served lunch.

W. B. A. TO MEET
Members of the Women's Benefit association will have a cover dish supper at 6:30 p. m. Thursday at the hall. Roll call will be a feature and all members are asked to be present. The social committee will have charge of the supper. The lodge will convene at 8. Officers will be elected.

DAUGHTERS OF AMERICA
When Plymouth council No. 183 Daughters of America, met Tuesday evening at the hall, East State street, the members planned to have a Christmas exchange at a meeting in two weeks. Lunch will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Camp extended hospitality to their club associates Tuesday evening at their home, Lisbon road. Four tables were in play at the bridge games. High score honors went to Mrs. H. M. Huffman and W. R. Crisenberry. Lunch was served by the hostess.

Mrs. Floyd Booth, of Leontina, who has been at the Salem City hospital recovering from an operation, has been taken to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Broomall, South Lincoln avenue.

Mrs. Albert Ryser of Prospect street, has returned from Detroit, where she spent two weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Berlin Steele.

Miss Mary Schmid, who has been ill for a month, has resumed her duties at the Famous market.

G. Elmer Diehl left Tuesday evening for Bedford, Pa., on a business trip.

LAWRENCE, Kas.—The dates for the next annual meeting of the Kansas Press Association have been set for Jan. 30 and 31, 1931, at Topeka, Kas., according to Col. C. H. Browne, president. The dates follow immediately after the "Kansas Day" dinner, which also is held here.

STATEMENT OF WOMAN IS READ

STATEMENT OF WOMAN IS READ

Prosecution Rests This Morning in Hearing Of Mary Tinney

apartment of Dr. Dragish, 187 West State street, Dragish is being held as a material witness.

Police Chief Testifies
Statements made by Miss Tinney during questioning by Sheriff Barlow, Sturgis, Police Chief T. W. Thompson and other authorities at the city hall in Salem and county jail in Lisbon were brought out during testimony of various witnesses.

Thompson said that the defendant had told him she was not at the Dragish apartments when the shooting occurred, declaring she had gone across the street to visit a friend, Zella Slaby.

Incidents leading to the recovery of the bullet which caused Murphy's death were related by Thompson while Patrolman Wilbur Hiddleston of the Salem police force told of finding the revolver allegedly used in the case, in Dragish's automobile.

Miss Ursula Mullins, night nurse at the Clinic hospital, told of Murphy's repeated refusals to say how he sustained the bullet wound in his neck. He was taken to the hospital by Dragish, Miss Dorothy Costlow, on duty at the institution when he was entered in the emergency ward, testified.

Wouldn't Name Assailant
Miss Mullins told of requests made for paper and pencil by Murphy. He wrote the inquiry, "Am I going to die?" and she told him he was not, the wound at that time being believed to be of no great seriousness. Murphy, Miss Mullins testified, then wrote on the paper that he had not shot himself but that he was shot by a man whom he refused to name.

Mrs. Rose Gokjovich, Salem, sister of the defendant, testified that Miss Tinney had visited her between 7 and 8 p. m. on the night of the shooting and had told her Dragish

"checked Murphy to death." Mary then went to Lisbon, she said, where she was arrested by Sheriff Barlow at the home of relatives.

"Felt Better," Says Sheriff
Facts leading up to the alleged confession were related by Barlow who said that Miss Tinney stated, after signing the statement, "I sure feel better now that's off my mind."

Prosecuting Attorney John E. Bauknecht said, on the witness stand, that the defendant had planned to plead guilty until she was questioned by her attorney, George T. Farrell of Lisbon, who urged her to enter a plea of not guilty.

It was explained by Coroner Sturgis that no autopsy had been held in Columbiana county after Murphy died, but one had been held at New Albany, Ind., which revealed that the death of Murphy was due to suffocation and strangulation, caused by clotted blood.

Residents Protest Extension Project
COLUMBIANA, Dec. 10.—Protests against the proposed annexation of rural territory to the village of Columbiana county have been made by residents of the outlying districts in petitions presented to village council.

The petitions represent a majority of property-owners in the rural areas and will probably result in a delay in action by council on the project, it was indicated at this week's session.

The village proposed annexation of territories lying north and east of present corporation lines.

VILLAGE SURVEY FILED IN OHIO

Four Communities Covered in Report; Findings Lodged Against Carrollton Clerk, Mayor

(By Brush-Moore Leased Wire)
COLUMBUS, Dec. 10.—A survey by State Examiner Ralph A. Riegler of Carroll county villages were filed Tuesday with State Auditor Joseph T. Tracy.

The survey included the villages of Delroy, Carrollton, Leesville and Malvern and covered the period between June 15, 1927, and July 9, 1930. It shows that illegal "items for recovery" amount to $1,742.87, the largest for which are $529.30 against F. E. Pretty, clerk of Carrollton, and $763.50 against the same official, who also acts as mayor. These were ordered repaid immediately.

Illegal payments total $707.63, of which the majority are against Malvern. One item in particular was paid by the village clerk to P. W. Riffle for detective work, which was held contrary to law.

Officers Elected By Sunday School
The Sunday school of Holy Trinity English Lutheran church elected officers and set the date for its Christmas service at the annual meeting Tuesday evening at Memorial building.

H. E. Smith was elected superintendent, with Paul Wilms, his assistant. Other officers are: Secretary, Miss Blanche Kaiser; assistant secretary, Miss Sarah Schropp; treasurer, Mrs. A. H. Schropp; pianist, Miss Ruth Hoch; assistant pianist, Miss Hilda Franke; chorister, Miss Elizabeth

U. S. Steel Unchanged As Bethlehem Rises; Others Firm

(By United Press)
NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—The stock market was steady today. U. S. Steel was unchanged at 142, while Bethlehem steel rose 3/8 to 60 1/8 and other steels ruled firm. U. S. Steel firmed up in the early dealings on better news from the industry.

Mercantile shares perked up with Woolworth up 1/4 at 59 3/8. Oils were better on reduction in output of crude to the lowest level in three years.

Despite the announcement of the iron age that steel ingot production had been reduced to 38 from 39 per cent of capacity this week, the street was encouraged with the conditions in the steel industry as set forth by that publication.

Rails showed a firmer tendency with Atchafalaya up 1/8 at 180 1/2, Chesapeake corporation up 1/4 at 41, and Pennsylvania unchanged at 57 1/8.

CLEVELAND LIVESTOCK

Never Ending Search

For better ways to
cut food prices

As food merchant to a nation, A&P bears a responsibility greater than that demanded of a mere trader in food. Selling food to great numbers of families involves the well-being of millions of people. Reducing the nation's food bill calls for more than the slashing of grocery prices.

It calls for everlasting watchfulness for better methods of food growing and producing, of shipping, of handling and storing, of marketing and retailing food—command of every invention and every means known to man for assisting the flow of food from its sources to the store counter.

Because A&P assumes the entire task of bringing food from producer to consumer, its responsibility to the public is greater than if it performed but a small part. Its search for better methods must be never-ending. Its way of lowering the cost of food to the consumer must be the best.

A&P makes food prices low by the best methods of Today. A&P will keep food prices low by the best methods of Tomorrow.

Advent Of Cold Weather Necessitates Improvements Of Roofs

Sheet Metal Work On Homes Necessary To Avert Serious Damage

Unless you had an inspection and such repair work as was needed last Spring, it is only friendly advice to urge you to look after the sheet metal work on the roof of your house, or any other metal work that is exposed to the elements. It is literally true in the use of sheet metal in building that if you save the surface you save all. The one great enemy is rust. Galvanized metal work of course is designed to overcome that destructive agency, but even that may be scratched by ice in the winter, or torn just a little, so that rust may enter. It is not unusual to find that metal has rusted from the underside, so that to the eye it appears sound, when in reality it is only waiting a load of ice or a violent wind to break through.

Left to itself, the homeowner will sooner or later find himself facing a pretty heavy bill for repairs. Taken in time, a little work often remedies the defect. Hence, before cold weather sets in, one should be sure that everything is in good shape.

Frequently, too, warm air pipes and especially the smoke pipe of the furnace rust through. Then when a fire is started the family finds it must let that fire go out and wait until it can secure a workman to make the repair, sometimes in the event of a cold snap early in the year suffering considerable discomfort.

Now is a good time to look after these things. Starbuck Bros. sheet metal house on North Ellsworth avenue will take the biggest job in that kind of construction, but they also look after the small jobs, and one is sure of experience and expert attention to this needs when he calls up this house on phone 1194.

GASOLINE KEEPS PACE WITH AUTO WORLD DEMAND

Sinclair gasoline, according to William F. Culler of the Culler-Sinclair station at 12 West State street, has kept pace with motor improvements in its ordinary gas as well as in the high test. The improved popular priced cars with the high speed engines and those with an increased number of cylinders require a gasoline which will give perfect distribution to all cylinders at all speeds and temperatures, and it is claimed for the Sinclair regular gas that it gives perfect combustion without the heavy "ends" left in refining that burns with an explosive effect and thus induce knocking.

It is declared to vaporize instantly into a true gas that gives complete distribution and combustion, converting all the fuel into power for maximum mileage, so that a gasoline rain does not form in the manifold and run into the cylinders, diluting the oil.

Many people who use this gasoline for the first time are much impressed by this performance, and continue with it. The Culler station finds the number who are using Sinclair gasoline on the growth all of the time, and insists that quality alone is causing it.

MARSEILLES — The only centenarians in this city, two widows, Madame Selma Rodel, 104, and Madame Arakian Ovokian, 119, died here within a few minutes of each other. Their deaths follow each other in the death roll of the town hall.

SAINT-JEAN-DE-LUZ — Experts of marine life have confessed unable to classify the extraordinary specimen recently tossed upon the beach here. The "fish" is covered with silver scales, and has a tail shaped like a crescent, atera and dorsal fins are large and tinted with violet. Its snout is flattened and on its back are eight brilliant-colored scarlet bumps.

HORSES ABLE TO CONTINUE WORK OF M. W. HANNAY

Where a team of good horses can do work, M. W. Hannay is ready to furnish the team. He is a horse enthusiast—this man Hannay. He does a big trucking business, moving heavy things as a matter of choice, and to see one of his teams take hold and pull is worth looking at. Mr. Hannay or a long time has demonstrated what many people are just beginning to find out—that when the cost of horses is studied a team of horses is often the answer to decreased costs. Without in any way disparaging mammoth trucks and their use, there is still need for good draft animals and animals with quality and strength are in demand.

Hannay deals in these. He buys and sells and the people sometimes say he knows how to trade horses so that both parties will be satisfied, which by and large is a rather remarkable performance. He usually has a number of animals on hand and is in touch with sources of supply that make him a well known figure through a large part of the industrial section hereabouts.

His address is 538 Columbia street, and his telephone number is 1076.

NEW WATERFORD

Auxiliary organizations of the Methodist church meeting within the week included the W. F. M. S. on Tuesday evening with Mrs. Delmar Dyke. The Kings Herald met Tuesday with Mrs. S. E. McCune. The 18 members present elected officers by re-electing Thelma Rogers for president; Mary Robinson as vice president; Madeline Bretz, secretary, and Anna Gotthardt, mite box secretary. The hostess served lunch.

On Thursday evening, Mrs. Lois Merriman was hostess to the Carrie Barge society when gifts were brought to be sent to the five teachers of the Browning home at Camden, S. C., as Christmas tokens.

Friday evening the committee in charge of the Sunday School Christmas entertainment met. Members of the committee include Mrs. Harry Unger, Mrs. Harlan Bradford, Mrs. V. T. James, and Miss Violet Ferguson.

Checks have been sent to the 88 members of the Christmas Savings club which total $3,800; this is an increase over last year.

Miss Violet Ferguson, chairman of the Red Cross membership drive, reports a total of 24 members as against 23 last year. Her aides were Mrs. Enos Harrold, the Misses Agnes Williams, Doris Unger and Ardith Rogers.

Mr. and Mrs. John Koch and daughter Helen were in Youngstown on Thursday where they attended the funeral services for Mrs. Koch's uncle, M. G. Erb, who died suddenly Monday.

A surprise party was held on Friday night honoring Miss Stella Sikorski of Rogers. Miss Sikorski was invited to the home of Mrs. Mary Phillips where she was met by 25 of her schoolmates representing the Junior and Senior classes of the high school. Rook was the chief diversion and prizes were awarded for high score to Erma Dyke and Harry Kannal. Miss Sikorski was presented with a traveling bag.

Beside the classmates of Miss Sikorski, Miss Johnston Miss Lytle and Mr. Blair of the high school faculty and Miss Charlotte Johnson were guests. Lunch was served by Mrs. Phillips being assisted by Mrs. Caldwell and Miss Evelyn Johnston.

Returning from a deer hunt with a plentiful supply of venison, Mr. Klein and Joe Taylor entertained a number of their friends on Wednesday night. The guests assembled at the Taylor home. They included Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Scott, Dr. and Mrs. Holzbach of Salem; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Chenoweth of Youngstown; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Koch, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Barrow of Columbiana; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Devitt, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Koch and Miss Frances Dillon. Four tables of bridge furnished the after-dinner diversion with prizes going to Dr. Holzbach and Mrs. Barrow.

On Thursday night the guests included members of the East Ohio Gun club and were entertained at the Klein home with 500 as the entertainment, Ray Fisher of Columbiana winning the prize.

Mrs. Mary Tomy of Salem was a recent guest of her daughter, Mrs. A. E. Esterly, and family.

Rev. and Mrs. J. P. Cotton left on Saturday for Mt. Lebanon, Pa., where they will be the guests of their daughter, Mrs. Charles Morris and family.

O. O. Thomas was called to Portsmouth on Friday by the sudden death of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Roger Thomas.

The Goshen-New Waterford basketball game on Saturday night attracted a large crowd. The game was won by Goshen, the girls scoring 40 to 12 and the boys 19 to 13. New Waterford plays Columbiana next Saturday night here.

Satisfaction Of Customers Is Keynote Of Jewelry Business

Asked what he considered the most essential thing in modern business success, Art the Jeweler, known to his friends as Art, located at 452 East State street, delivered himself of whole business sermon in one sentence of five letters:

"The customer must be satisfied." There was a time, not so many years ago, when many businesses were conducted on a different principle. The idea then was to get all the customer had on him by some device. There were instances where he was lucky to get out with his skin. But after a little of this some longheaded merchants concluded that the customer might at some date have more money to spend, and that it was well to leave a favorable impression that might bring him back to the store.

Radios Give Best Results During Winter Seasons

The time of year when radios give their best performance is upon us. Although high power broadcasting eliminated a great deal of the usual static last summer due to the blanketing effect of the powerful carrier waves, there is no denying that the winter time with its crystal clear, cold nights offers the best opportunity for receiving programs over extremely long distances.

It is very likely that the folks who set up the real records for long distance reception in Salem this year will be those who are fortunate enough to own one of the new type sets, which have been developed recently, and equipped with screen grid tubes. In comparing the power of screen grid tubes as radio frequency amplifiers with the old style three element tubes, it is not an exaggeration to say that there is as much difference as

The Seventh and Eighth grades will give an entertainment in the school auditorium Friday afternoon, under the direction of the teachers. Misses Willa Carpenter and Belva Saxter, and Mr. Waldo Ward. The program which consists of readings, music, and a play entitled "Patty Saves the Day." The cast includes: Mildred Burton, Susie Detwiler, Jean Magill, Clyde Getz, Francis Reinher, Ellen Myers, Helen Peters, Jean Weaver, Dorothy Tidd, Jack Miller, Alden West. The playlet is in two acts, showing an eighth grade spade hunt and a Freshman Frolic.

An interesting musical program is promised for Friday night, December 12 at the Columbiana school auditorium, when the Columbiana American Legion band, Charles Emswiler, conductor, will present a concert. In addition to band numbers, special features on the program will be: Joe Bernard's Accordion Trio; Louise Fullerton, Xylophonist; Harry Helzel, violinist; and King's Melody Hawaiians. The band, which is self supporting and needs funds for incidental expenses, takes this means of replenishing the treasury, without making a public appeal.

Columbiana stores, with the exception of groceries will remain open evenings until nine o'clock for the benefit of Christmas shoppers, beginning Wednesday evening, December 17. The groceries will remain open evenings starting Saturday, Dec. 20th.

Under the auspices of the Columbiana Business Men's association, the usual Christmas decorations of small Christmas trees will be available to business houses along Main street in the business district.

The annual Fairfield Township Farmers' Institute will open Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the Centralized school building, with President S. D. Culp presiding and continuing through the balance of the week. Music will be furnished by the Mahoning County Horticultural quartet and by Fairfield talent. The following speakers appear on the program: Rev. J. C. Smith, Lecturer; Mrs. J. C. Petter, Salem; Prof. L. D. Kepner, Lisbon;

MOVING IS NOW EASIER TASK IN MODERN SYSTEM

No one likes to think of the job of moving household goods to a new location. However one may better himself by the move, the actual doing of it is by no means a pleasant task. Compared, however to former methods or to other places, the job is comparatively easy in Salem when one calls in the facilities of the Harris Garage & Storage Co., phone 493.

This concern, which combines the experience of 23 years with the best of facilities cannot make moving easy perhaps, but it can take off the mind of the mover a big load, take the good wherever they are wanted—a block or two or a 100 miles—in safety, and give courteous consideration to the wishes of the people most concerned. They have been doing that so long it is second nature.

The concern also offers the facilities of a storage warehouse where property is taken care of properly. It is prepared to do the whole job of moving for anyone, and its work in the long business career it has enjoyed is pretty good proof that such tasks entrusted to it will be taken care of properly.

OTTAWA, O. — Announcement has been made by Jerome Laubenthal, proprietor of a garage near here, that he would give the profits from sale of garage products the remainder of the year to aid the poor. Laubenthal has been doing a thriving business and has been forced to add two men to his force. Sale of five gallons of gasoline means some poor child is added to the amount of 15 cents.

TONIGHT'S FEATURES

Capt. Frank M. Hawks, America's speed king of the air, will be interviewed by Grantland Rice, 10:30 p. m., WTAM. Len Joy's Orchestra plays.

Percy Grainger, pianist and composer, appears as guest on Mobil Oil Hour with Nat Shilkret's Orchestra, 8:30 p. m., WTAM.

Armenian National Chorus will present a broadcast over CBS Network, 10:30 p. m. Try WADC, Akron.

Those who enjoy the sound of the solid thud of mitt on chin will be able to dial part of the Cleveland News Christmas Fund boxing show in Public Hall tonight. Fidel La Barba, former fly-weight champ, and Eddie Shea are in the top spot. WHK cuts in on the card at 10. Phil Slesnick does the announcing.

It's been announced that Eddie Cantor, stage comedian playing Cleveland this week, will act as a general master of ceremonies at the show. You will probably hear Eddie's voice on the air.

WTAM is not certain that it could clear its commercial programs in order to carry the boxing broadcast. If the station is able to clear, Tom (Red) Manning will probably be the announced at the ringside.
